LEADING FEATURES, AND OPINIONS CONCERNING THEM.

PRONUNCIATION OF PROPER NAMES.—All proper names are printed in black type, syllabified and accentuated. The editor in his preface says: "To know one you must know his name, especially in Mythology, where names constitute being."

"After years of experience I appreciate the value of the pronunciation of proper names in the body of the text. The time for the study is limited; it is impossible to require incessant use of dictionary. . . . I believe you have done much to secure correct spelling. . . . The illustrations in your edition are a valuable feature.

"The recognition of the mythology of Babylon, Assyria, and Phœnicia I consider timely."—Mary L. Hanna, Teacher of English, Central High School, Cleveland, Ohio.

BULFINCH'S AGE OF CHIVALRY, or KING ARTHUR AND HIS KNIGHTS. New Revised Edition by Rev. J. Loughran Scott. This New Edition, uniform with "The Age of Fable," has been thoroughly revised and a number of new chapters added. The numerous illustrations have been prepared with great care and considerable expense. As "The Age of Fable" superseded all former editions of that book, so this edition of "The Age of Chivalry" is far superior to any other work on the subject yet published.
Crown octavo, ... 1 25

"No one can read this edition of 'The Age of Chivalry' without coming in contact with the best literature of the Arthurian Legends. While retaining the old, at the same time we have created a new work. The interest of these legends naturally centers about King Arthur and Queen Guinevere. In the case of Guinevere we have added a new section, and also enlarged the chapter that treats of Arthur and the passing of his kingdom. The names ranking next in interest are those of Launcelot and Elaine; here, too, we have written an additional section. At the close of the first part we have inserted a chapter on Mediæval Legends. St. George and Robin Hood attach to an importance scarcely surpassed by King Arthur himself. We have also drawn directly from Sir Thomas Mallory, especially in connection with the adventures of Sir Tor, Sir Pellenore, Sir Gawain, Sir Launcelot, and Sir Galahad."

"A Third Part with seven additional chapters has been added, consisting largely of the writings of Ossian. Whatever may have been the origin of those strange books, they certainly embody more of the ancient spirit of Britain than any other similar work."

"It is pleasant to have set before us, by means of Mr. Hare's excellent word-painting, the many classical and individual buildings with which these districts abound, especially as these antiquarian subjects are every now and then agreeably enlivened by sketches of romantic scenery and curious aspects of ancient and modern age."—Spectator.

HOLLICK, DR. F. The Origin of Life and Process of Reproduction. With the Anatomy and Physiology of the Human Generative System, Male and Female. The Causes, Prevention, and Cure of the Special Diseases to which it is liable.

A Plain, Practical Treatise for Popular Use. Illustrated by Numerous Engravings in the text and 44 Full-Page Plates, many of them in colors.

Over 900 pages. Royal octavo, ... 2 50

This complete work embraces all of the author's former books,—"The Marriage Guide," "The Male Generative Organs in Health and Disease," "The Female Generative Organs and Diseases of Women Familiarly Explained," "The Matron's Manual of Midwifery and Childbirth," etc., etc.

In the last few years there has been a constant and increasing demand for a practically useful, popular, and unobjectionable book on the Reproductive System and its derangements, suitable for private and family use. This demand comes from a most intelligent and worthy class, from a class fully capable of appreciating such a book and of profiting by it.

With a view to meeting this demand we requested Dr. Hollick to rewrite all his works and compile them in one volume, with new illustrations, and comprising all the newest information. This the Doctor has done in the present book, which we venture to assert will be found, in every respect, the very work that has long been required. No expense has been spared in getting it up, for we were determined it should be complete. The illustrations especially—both engravings and colored plates—are profuse and done in the very best syle.

Hamilton Wright Mabie says of Volume III, issued recently:

"I have been impressed by the range of topics upon which she touched, and by my own need of information concerning many of the things of which she has written."

"A great amount of curious and valuable information wanted almost every day by thoughtful people, yet which cannot be found because it is stowed away in some obscure volume in the library."—School Journal, New York.

"It easily ranks among the most notable American publications."—Rt. Hon. Wm. E. Gladstone.

"I commenced examining the 'Curious Questions' without any idea that it would be of service to a man of my age, opportunities, and experience. I find, however, that some of the questions are such as I could not have answered or have known where to look for their answers. Nor are there any questions in the book which it is undesirable to have answered. Such a work will be of inestimable value to any intelligent person, old or young. The plan of the book is original, its purpose that of supplying an actual need, its execution indicative of broad and generous culture, pure taste, and delicate discernment."—Rev. Andrew Preston Peabody, D.D., LL.D., of Harvard University.

"I am very much pleased with your work. It has an immense amount of useful knowledge packed into its pages. Your plan of separating the questions and answers is ingenious, for a glance at the question without the appended answer sets one on the search through his own brain for the facts called for. The evidence of personal ignorance makes one covet the information. With the coveting comes the excitement of curiosity, and when, after the process of awakening and stimulating the mind, comes the turning to the page where the answer is found, the student is more likely to read that answer with avidity, and retain it permanently."—Right Rev. John H. Vincent, D.D., Bishop of the M. E. Church, and Chancellor of Chautauqua University.

"I have examined 'Curious Questions,' and find it full of interesting and instructive matter. In its plan and contents I was reminded a little of D'Israeli's 'Curiosities of Literature.' Aside from its own intrinsic merit, it may be the cause of many volumes of like kind, though I fear not of equal excellence."—Rev. George Williamson Smith, D. D., President of Trinity College, Hartford, Conn.

"'Descriptive Mentality,' by Prof. Holmes W. Merton, is a concise and practical method of learning to read and delineate the character, habit, and capacities of the mental faculties from their definite signs in the head, face, and hand. . . . It is a strong book and one that should always demand respectful attention, not alone from the student, but from the great reading public, whose horizon of knowledge is broadened by all such worthy efforts. NAPHEYS, GEORGE H., A.M., M.D. Physical Life of Woman. Advice to the Maiden, Wife, and Mother. A New Edition, Revised to the Latest Date, with a Life of the Author.

This is the only work on the delicate topic of Woman recommended for popular reading by the most distinguished physicians, eminent divines, prominent educators, leading medical journals, and the press generally. Its extraordinary value and popularity is shown by the fact that of this work and its companion volume, "The Transmission of Life," 280,000 copies have been sold.

12mo, cloth, gilt back and side, ... $2 00

"Dr. Napheys we do not know personally. But this book is at once brave and pure. It is written in such a spirit that she who really desires to learn the truths of which she can not with justice to herself and others be ignorant, may do so without being shocked, while he who hopes to stimulate a vicious imagination by its perusal will turn away from its pages disappointed."—The Independent, New York.

"I have read with much interest and satisfaction 'The Physical Life of Woman.' I am glad that the subject has been taken up by one who shows himself so thoroughly qualified for the task, and I trust the instruction and advice contained in the volume will reach every woman in the land."—William A. Hammond, M.D., Professor in the Bellevue Hospital Medical College, New York, etc.

"Though professedly written for popular instruction, this little book will not fail to instruct the professional reader as well. We cordially recommend Dr. Napheys' book to every woman seeking a fuller acquaintance with her physical organism."—New York Medical Gazette.

"This book is written in a style well calculated both to please and instruct. There is nothing of the sensational or imaginative character in it. On the contrary, its teachings are in strict accordance with scientific facts and good sense. Though designed specially for females, a careful perusal would be productive of much benefit to both sexes."—Chicago Medical Examiner.

STAUFFER, FRANK H. The Queer, The Quaint, and The Quizzical. A Cabinet for the Curious. Crown octavo, cloth, gilt top, with full index, $1 25

"Never did a title to a book express its contents with more fidelity than the above, for the book itself contains a little of everything that is odd, queer, quaint, and curious. As a work of reference or a volume to be picked up at leisure moments, nothing could be better. How and where the author ever found these items and short bits of information is a puzzle to the uninitiated. A good index facilitates the finding of what one wants to know."—Chicago Evening Journal.

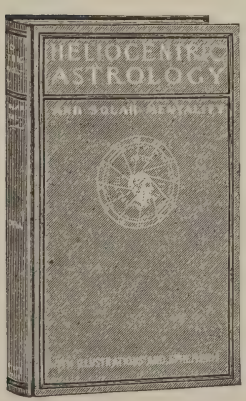
VEDRA, YARMO. Heliocentric Astrology; or, Essentials of Astronomy and Solar Mentality, with Tables of Ephemeris to 1910. With Sixty-four Illustrations, Thirty-five of which are Original Drawings by Holmes W. Merton, Author of "Descriptive Mentality."
Octavo, cloth, gilt top, ... 1 50



"It is not the work of a dreamer or a fanatic, but rather a presentation of truths that were more familiar to the ancients than to the scientists of our day. It is destined to become a classic among this sort of literature, for it merits the candid examination of every educated mind."—Faith and Hope Messenger.

"If the reader is curious to know the influences the stars are said by some to have had upon his life, he is recommended to read 'Heliocentric Astrology; or, Essentials of Astronomy and Solar Mentality, with Tables of Ephemeris to 1910.' By Yarmo Vedra."—Globe Democrat, St. Louis.

"A fascinating book is that written by Yarmo Vedra entitled 'Heliocentric Astrology.' However much the reading of destiny in the stars may be pooh-poohed by science, there is a subtle charm in the weird horoscopes figured out of planetary conjunctions, zodiacal birth signs, etc., and Mr. Vedra has made an entertaining contribution to the subject."—The Call, Philadelphia.

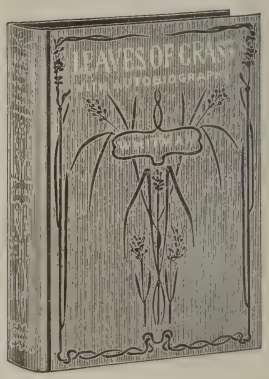
WHITMAN, WALT. Leaves of Grass. Variorum edition. Each poem has been compared with previous editions and all changes in the readings given in foot-notes. Together with a department of "Gathered Leaves," being a collection of poems discarded from the earlier editions. An autobiography in facsimile, and four portraits.
1 vol., crown 8vo, cloth, gilt top, uncut edges, ... 1 25



"It aims to give the growing as well as the grown Whitman. The accepted readings are given in the text. Each poem has been carefully compared with that appearing in all previous editions, and the changes have been inserted in foot-notes. The lines have been numbered, by which means the reader can readily compare the various readings and mark their transformations. Under the head of 'Gathered Leaves' I have collected such poems as have been dropped by the way, some of which appeared in only one, and others in several editions. I was frequently called upon to give information concerning poems whose headings had been changed. These have been noted, and in the alphabetical list at the end of the volume all such titles appear, with reference to the present title."—Preface.

"The book is finely gotten up and would have pleased Walt himself."—John Burroughs.

"The appearance of this book is not merely an incident, it is an event. It means that at last the study of the most striking and original contribution to American literature has been simplified. And here is the gray poet's best monument."—New York Sun.

"A volume to treasure is 'Leaves of Grass' as now issued by David McKay."—Book Lover, San Francisco.

"The edition at hand is definitive and must supersede all others, both in its completeness and in its historical data."—Public Ledger, Philadelphia.

"Lovers of Walt Whitman cannot fail to be delighted with this beautiful edition."—The Arena, New York.

"Not only all the admirers of Walt Whitman, but all lovers of good bookwork will thank Mr. McKay for his service to literature."—The World, New York.

"It has a special value to the student of Whitman in its complete registration of various readings."—Book News, Philadelphia.

"The steps which he took to get his final expression are made clear. All the readings that he struck forth are given. Mr. McKay has shown great industry in doing this work minutely."—Saturday Review, New York Times.

"The very best edition that has ever appeared."—Book World, New York.

"A very excellent edition."—Evening Post, Chicago.

With an Appendix containing explanations of many of the best known specialties of Maskelyne and Cooke. A handsome and substantial book, containing 300 tricks. Large 12mo, bound in cloth, . 1 50

Is a treatise, and a very practical one, on the art of conjuring, in its various and bewildering departments, some of which require special apparatus, most of which require that dexterity known as sleight-of-hand. There are, for example, card tricks which can be played with ordinary cards and without sleight-of-hand, and others again which demand special apparatus. There are coin tricks, tricks with watches, rings, handkerchiefs, dominos, dice, etc.

HOFFMANN, PROF.—Continued.

The tricks are clearly and comprehensively explained by diagrams and illustrations when necessary. This book will afford an inexhaustible fund of amusement in a family where the young people are fond of games and are quick in acquiring these things. The explanations are given most comprehensively, and cover an immense field; besides, the book is filled with illustrations demonstrating the easiest way to accomplish these feats of legerdemain, magic, etc.

There is a vast difference between telling how a trick is done and teaching how to do it. This is the only book that teaches how to do it.

The Famous Frank Merriwell Stories.

BURT L. STANDISH.

No modern series of tales for boys and youths has met with anything like the cordial reception and popularity accorded to the Frank Merriwell Stories. There must be a reason for this and there is. Frank Merriwell, as portrayed by the author, is a jolly whole-souled, honest, courageous American lad, who appeals to the hearts of the boys. He has no bad habits, and his manliness inculcates the idea that it is not necessary for a boy to indulge in petty vices to be a hero. Frank Merriwell's example is a shining light for every ambitious lad to follow. Six volumes now ready:

Frank Merriwell's School Days.
Frank Merriwell's Chums.
Frank Merriwell's Foes.
Frank Merriwell's Trip West.
Frank Merriwell Down South.
Frank Merriwell's Bravery.

VICTOR ST. CLAIR.

These books are full of good, clean adventure, thrilling enough to please the full-blooded wide-awake boy, yet containing nothing to which there can be any objection from those who are careful as to the kind of books they put into the hands of the young.

It is a series of interesting biographical sketches of the lives and attainments of distinguished Americans. The portraits and other illustrations are authentic.

"'One Hundred Famous Americans' is a century of short biographies of as many noted men and women who have distinguished themselves and reflected honor upon their native land in the different arts of peace and war. It is a useful book for reference, and is largely illustrated."—N. Y. Mail and Express.

"May be regarded as a sort of condensed biographical dictionary for the use of juvenile readers, although the style less dry and formal than belongs to a work of that class. The author writes with intelligence and impartiality."—N. Y. Sun.

"As a collection of personal data the book is exceedingly useful. It is full of encouragement for the young, in showing them what great things can be done by hard, well-directed work."—N. Y. Evening Post.

"Is, in itself, a library of biography for young people. Its list of titles includes the names of many eminent Americans, both living and dead, who have gained fame, and whose lives are the best of lessons and examples. The compiler has written the brief sketches concisely, yet in a readable style."—New York Independent.

"Happy the boy into whose life this admirable array of great men and women, with all the illustrations, portraits, and designs enters. The selection of characters, and the characteristics of each, are as noticeable as the attractive way in which the facts are put."—Journal of Education, Boston.

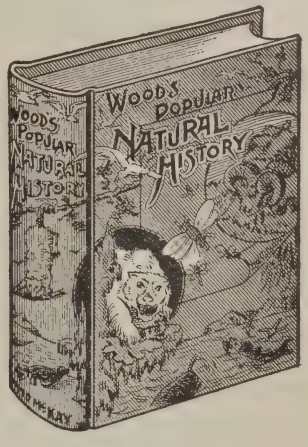
WOOD, REV. J. G., M.A. New Illustrated Natural History. With many Hundred Illustrations from Designs by Wolf, Zwecker, Weir, Coleman, Harvey, and other Artists, engraved by the Brothers Dalziel. Stamped in Gold and Colors. Large 8vo, cloth, $2 50

Wood's "Natural History," with its charming descriptions and delightful anecdotes of all animals, both domestic and wild, is the greatest authority in the land. It gives minutely, and in the simplest language, the habits, haunts, diseases, and peculiarities of the entire animal kingdom. The descriptions of the animals are truthful and interesting. Their portraits, as shown in the hundreds of illustrations, are accurately drawn, and make us realize the variety and beauty of earth's creatures. The life and habits of animals, reptiles, birds, etc., are of equal interest to old and young. Rev. J. G. Wood is the recognized authority upon the subject, and possesses the rare faculty of making his descriptions and anecdotes of animal life more fascinating than a novel. No library is complete without it. It is impossible to give in this announcement more than a slight idea of the magnitude of this great history, with its accurate descriptions. It virtually goes into the haunts of all animals, and shows them as they live. It is the recognized authority all over the world.

WOOD, REV. J. G., M.A. Popular Natural History. With 600 Illustrations by Wolf, Harrison Weir, and others. Handsomely bound, stamped in gold and Colors. Crown 8vo, cloth, ... 1 50



No science exerts a greater influence in broadening and elevating the mind than that which treats of the nature, structure, and habits of the lower animals. This volume is made more interesting than most works on natural history for young readers because of its simple, graphic language, its accurate classification, and the number of anecdotes, nearly all of them new, which illustrate the ferocity or docility, the instinct and traits, of the humbler inhabitants of the earth. It is a condensation of his larger work, and has been prepared especially for the instruction and entertaining of the young.

McLOUGHLIN BROTHERS

LIST OF

FALL AND HOLIDAY PUBLICATIONS

FOR SEASON 1906-7

FACTORY & WAREHOUSE, BROOKLYN, N. Y.

OFFICE & SALESROOMS

890 BROADWAY NEW YORK

McLOUGHLIN BROTHERS' ATHLETIC LIBRARY

This series will contain stories of our field sports, fully illustrated in tints with colored lithographic frontispieces, written by authors who are authorities on the subjects as well as lovers of the sports that so delight our American boys and girls.

THE INITIAL VOLUME

MIDGET BLAKE, PITCHER

By Leslie W. Quirk.

Author Baby Elton, Quarterback, etc.

Profusely illustrated in tints, with colored frontispiece, done in lithography. Cloth 12mo. exquisitely stamped in three colors. Price Fifty Cents.

A pulsating baseball story for boys. The young hero, nicknamed "The Midget," is bound to win his way straight to the hearts of all lovers of the national game. He is the star pitcher of the college nine that finally wins the championship, after a series of the most exciting games that were ever put into a book. It is not a superficial treatment of baseball, but a thoroughly technical story of the sport, with "bunts" and "flies," "spit-balls," "home-steals" marvelous catches, "squeeze" plays and the like. The scene is a college, and young readers will catch the infection called "college-spirit" before the first chapter is read. Besides the hero, there are a number of familiar types of characters—big, bluff Coach Kling; Traitor Bounder, who threw the game but later made up for his dishonesty; a rival pitcher who did all in his power to lessen Midget's glory, and countless others. Readers of the author's stories in St. Nicholas, Youth's Companion, American Boy, etc., will find Midget one of strongest characters Mr. Quirk has ever offered his thousands of boy readers.

McLoughlin Brothers, New York

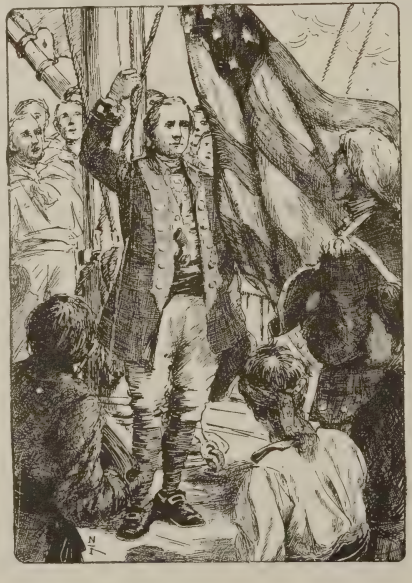
"That is a good book that is opened with expectation and closed with profit."—Alcott.

YOUNG FOLKS' COLONIAL LIBRARY

This series of books will consist of biographical stories of the minor characters in the War for Independence. They are written in a style appealing especially to young people; but the adult will find them authentic as well as interesting reading. The stories have been carefully prepared and deal only in facts, with enough romantic coloring to give them freshness and interest. Our young folks will find them a material aid to the study of our country's history. The books are fully illustrated by artists who are well and favorably known. Profusely illustrated in tints, frontispieces in colored lithography. Cloth 12 mo stamped in 3 colors. Price, $0.40.

The following volumes by Percy K. Fitzhugh:

The Story of John Paul Jones.
" " " Ethan Allen, The Green Mountain Boy.
" " " Anthony Wayne (Mad Anthony).
" " " General Francis Marion, the Bayard of the South.
" " " General Richard Montgomery.
" " " General Baron DeKalb.



Story of John Paul Jones

This work is an absorbing and authentic account of our famous hero's life, and his deeds on the high sea in the War for Independence.

McLoughlin Brothers, New York

YOUNG FOLKS' COLONIAL LIBRARY

The Story of General Anthony Wayne

("Mad Anthony")

The Hero of Stony Point.

The subject of this tale, as well as the style and plan of the book, renders it unique in American biographical literature. It is a series of glimpses, a sort of fast moving panorama in which may be seen the most dramatic incidents in the War for Independence.

The Story of Ethan Allen

The Green Mountain Boy.

This book tells the thrilling tale of the capture of Crown Point and Ticonderoga, by "the Green Mountain Boys," as well as other stirring events in which this patriotic band had a part.

The Story of General Francis Marion

The Bayard of the South.

The reader's interest in this volume is centered in the swamps of South Carolina, where "Marion and his Merry Men" made their home. The life of Robin Hood itself cannot rival that of the extraordinary Marion in romantic interest. He is forever associated with midnight camp-fires, rousing songs, gallant raids and hair-breadth escapes. Volumes to follow shortly:

Story of General Richard Montgomery.
" " " (Baron) De Kalb.

Orders should specify the exact titles or serial numbers as given in this list.

We handle our own publications only, and therefore cannot fill orders for books of other publishers.

Books ordered on regular account are not subject to return unless ordered by mistake which is promptly brought to our attention.

If books are wanted for first introduction, that fact should be clearly stated and the name of the school, together with that of the Superintendent or Principal, should be given.

Remittances should be made by draft, postal or express money order, or registered letter, as may be most convenient.

All orders should be accompanied by remittances, unless customers desire to open an account, in which case we expect satisfactory New York City, or bank, reference, as to financial standing and promptness in meeting obligations.

POLITICAL CYCLOPÆDIA

Lalor—The Political Cyclopædia.

Edited by JOHN J. LALOR.

Every one who wishes to think, speak, and act intelligently upon the great questions of the day needs this work, written by the most eminent specialists in this country and Europe; e. g., DAVID A. WELLS discusses the Tariff and Tariff Legislation from the standpoint of the free-trader, and D. H. MASON from the point of view of the protectionist. E. L. GODKIN writes of Office-Holders, Prof. ALEXANDER JOHNSTON the articles on the Political History of the United States, DORMAN B. EATON of Civil Service Reform, Pres. D. C. GILMAN of Universities, SIMON STERNE of Railroads, Pres. F. A. WALKER of Public Revenue and Wages, EDWARD ATKINSON of Banks, JOHN J. KNOX of the Currency, etc., THOMAS M. COOLEY, President Interstate Commerce Commission, of The Bar, Law of Corporations, etc., HORATIO C. BURCHARD, ex-Director of the Mint, of Coinage, Gold, Silver, etc.

Of the multitude of cordial endorsements of the Cyclopædia received from prominent men in all parts of the country, the following are fairly representative:

GEORGE F. EDMUNDS writes: "A well-arranged and useful book of reference."

Prof. DAVID SWING says: "The three large volumes seem like foundation stones of our world. The most fundamental terms are defined and their import discussed. Events which acted as causes or come as results of society are to be found in this massive collection. These books, like a radius, sweep around the circle of political knowledge."

JAMES G. BLAINE writes: "I use it almost daily for reference, and regard it as a model."

THOMAS M. COOLEY writes: "An excellent work, convenient for any one to have, and invaluable to a student of the Political Sciences or of American History."

J. C. BANCROFT DAVIS writes: "The work will materially help to make better citizens and more intelligent voters of the young men into whose hands it will go and who are to control our destinies."

The Atlanta Constitution says: "It is doubtful indeed if a more important work of reference has ever been prepared."

The New York Nation says: "A timely and valuable aid to political education. We cannot withhold our warm commendation of the industry and discrimination of the editor, and the enterprise of the publishers."

The publishers have just prepared a 16-page pamphlet descriptive of this great work, which they will send free to any one who wishes to know about it.
It is published in three superb volumes, averaging one thousand pages each, and sold by subscription at the following prices:

Sheep. 3 vols. Per vol..... 6 00

THE CHRISTIAN LIFE

537 C. M.

JESUS, these eyes have never seen
That radiant form of thine;
The veil of sense hangs dark between
Thy blessèd face and mine.

2 I see thee not, I hear thee not,
Yet art thou oft with me;
And earth hath ne'er so dear a spot
As where I meet with thee.

3 Like some bright dream that comes unsought
When slumbers o'er me roll,
Thine image ever fills my thought,
And charms my ravished soul.

4 Yet though I have not seen, and still Must rest in faith alone,
I love thee, dearest Lord, and will,
Unseen, but not unknown.

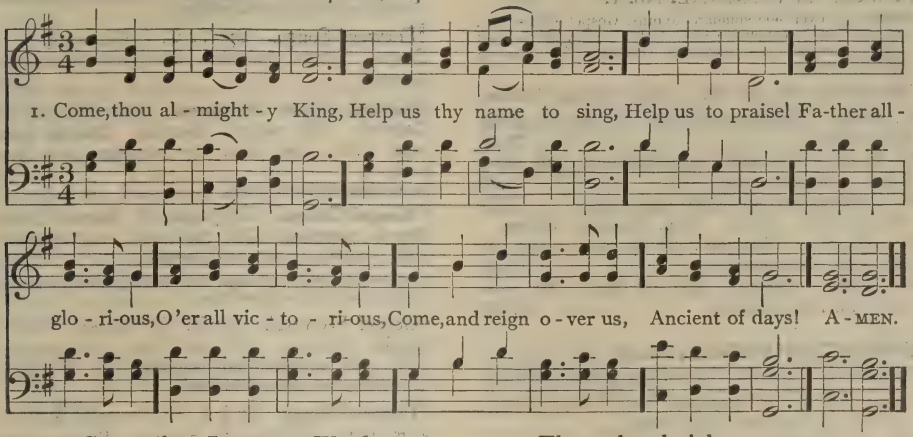
2 ITALIAN HYMN 6. 6. 4. 6. 6. 6. 4. FELICE GIARDINI



2 Come, thou Incarnate Word,
Gird on thy mighty sword,
Our prayer attend;
Come, and thy people bless,
And give thy word success:
Spirit of holiness,
On us descend!

3 Come, Holy Comforter,
Thy sacred witness bear,
In this glad hour:
Thou who almighty art,
Now rule in every heart,
And ne'er from us depart,
Spirit of power!

4 To the great One and Three,
Eternal praises be
Hence, evermore:
His sovereign majesty
May we in glory see,
And to eternity
Love and adore!

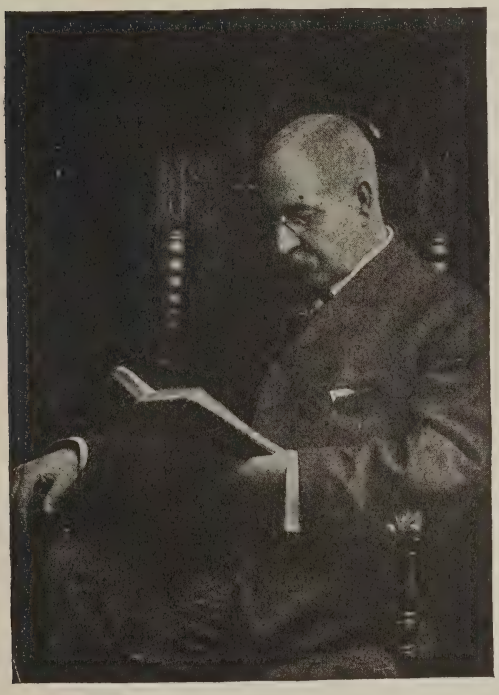
THE CASSOWARY

BY STANLEY WATERLOO

STANLEY WATERLOO'S new novel, "The Cassowary," is said to be one of the most powerful and interesting ever written by the popular author. It has been declared by critics who have seen the advance sheets, to be one of the most appealing and original of love stories ever appearing, while through it runs a fantastic tangle of accident and incident which adds to its fascination.

What is "The Cassowary?" Thousands of readers will find out, to their satisfaction, in the immediate future, as they lose themselves in Stanley Waterloo's latest novel. It is simply a great, intense American love story, clean but passionate, yet upon a new model altogether, while within it are other stories, minor ones, but infinitely curious and queer and charming. It is a book alone of its kind.



Departures seem to be what attract the readers of tq-day, and Mr. Waterloo has certainly made one with utmost carelessness, but with a keen regard for all that is of human interest, for what may please the fancy, gratify the imagination, or absorb in the pending outcome. The scene is laid under circumstances rare but readily possible, the people are those we meet, but are not those we often meet together, and, availing himself of such combination, the author has given everybody a book which is more than one of the passing kind, but which is literature. It excites attention at once and its moods are infectious from title-page to ending.

The book has far more to it than the strong and fascinating love story. It is a book to amuse quite as much the casual reader on a train as it is to command the regard of the student of human nature. It is, one can only say, what it is. And that is why if this striking volume, just given to the public, does not markedly increase the receipts of booksellers during the coming season, it will be contrary to all expectations of the publishers, the reviewers, and such others as have already come into possession of the work.

It is a curious and thoughtful departure from the ordinary laws of novel-writing; there is the introduction of a sort of double entity in its conception and course, but, primarily, and above all, there is a splendid dignity to the story, embodying, as it does, the revelation of a love glorious, self-sacrificing, and finally triumphant, and describing exquisitely the perceptions, the self-analysis and emotions of a man and woman who have passed the line between two and one. It is asserted that no more gracious and vivid conception of the relations which may exist between great souls has ever been put into words. This story of deep love and its charming phases, all in a setting of events curiously, sometimes even whimsically, out of the ordinary, promises to make "The Cassowary" one of the books, if not "the" book of the season.

This Book Contains Over 400 Pages with 16 Pages of Colored Illustrations

JOHN DORN, PROMOTER

By Charles Eugene Banks

A story of modern finance with an idealistic trend. John Dorn, a sturdy young financier of Chicago, is chosen by a rich Lumberman of the Upper Peninsula to promote a trust in the principal timber claims of the country. Through the influence of Helen Chadbourne, a beautiful girl, he is inspired to add to the scheme of promotion the idea of re-forestation. A brace of schemers in the combination advance money and get a first mortgage on the lands of the incorporation. They try to wreck the company with the hope of gaining possession of the entire combination. A reservation of Indian lands is incorporated in the company. Dorn, Chief Eagle Wing, who is head of the Indian tribe, and Helen Chadbourne must fight all the others in the combinatiom to win. Some Chicago Ghetto people get money in the venture, and in the critical moment riot for a return of their investment.

Three interesting love stories run through the book.

The characters represent the pronounced types of American civilization, and the three dominant races of the earth. The story is swift, dramatic, full of happy thoughts, quaint humor and some lofty flights of poetic utterance.

The author has planned to give in a single novel a comprehensive view of the present trend of American ambition with an undercurrent of idealism that will make future America the greatest artistically, as it is today financially and intellectually, of the governments of the earth.

The novel is beautifully illustrated with colored plates by August Abelmann. The book is artistically printed and bound and is sure to be one of the widest read and most discussed books of fiction published in recent years.

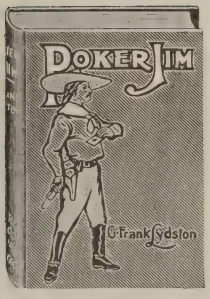
A CALIFORNIA STORY BY A NATIVE SON

Poker Jim, Gentleman

By

G. Frank Lydston



This is a story of the old time Californian mining camps by a native son of the golden West. It depicts in graphic terms the oddities and heroism of the early western pioneers and brings out in bold relief the many-sidedness of their characters. The delineation of these characters is a labor of love on the part of the author, who recalls them from his boyhood's days, and as the most picturesque features of his early life. They indeed belong to "the days when there were giants in the land."

In POKER JIM, the high minded, courageous, polished soldier of fortune, the author has depicted a character which was peculiar to the environments afforded by the mining camps of early days Not even Bret Harte, at his best, had a clearer insight into the individualities of the heterogeneous population of the coast mining town than is displayed in this book. The rough and ready, chivalrous, hot tempered, impulsive, hair-triggered Argonauts of '49 have by no means suffered in the hands of the author of POKER JIM, who recalls them as heroic figures of a time which, tho' not far distant, was very unlike the present.

The author has a world-wide reputation as a scientist, and, as might be expected, the story of POKER JIM shows the touch of a psychologist who has learned much that is written nowhere but in the book of human nature. One thing will be especially evident to the reader of the book, viz: the author not only knows his characters, but is greatly in love with them.

POKER JIM will do much to fix in the memory the picturesqueness of the brave Jasons of '49, who journeyed far toward the setting sun in quest of the Golden Fleece. The American pioneer is a personality which no other country has produced. The ring of his axe and the "chug" of his exploring pick have furnished the music to which the march of civilization has progressed.

The story is beautifully illustrated with six colored plates

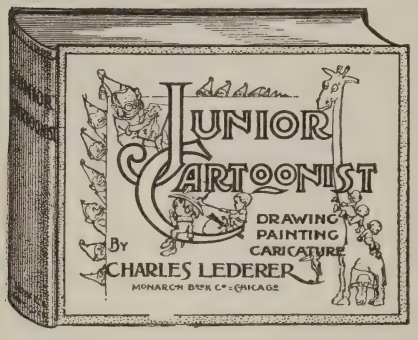
The Junior Cartoonist

DRAWING—PAINTING—CARICATURE

Designed, Written and Illustrated by

CHARLES LEDERER

The Well-Known Cartoonist and Instructor in Drawing and Painting. Founder of The Lederer School of Drawing



This book has been prepared with the greatest care, expressly to develop the natural talent possessed by nearly every child, and it closely combines fun and study, with a greater number of colored subjects and patterns than any work of this kind heretofore published.

The simple and clear style of instruction practically overcomes all the difficulties formerly met with in the youthful endeavor to produce form and color on paper, and great care has been exercised in the preparation of the outlines and designs in order to produce subjects that will fascinate and hold the interest of children throughout the entire course.

Jingling rhymes, adding interest and pleasure to the production of pictures, provide recreation in the truest sense of the word.

The long experience of the author-artist as a teacher of art has enabled him to produce in THE JUNIOR CARTOONIST an Embodiment of Pictorial Art Acquired Without Apparent Effort, and at the same time provide the greatest possible diversity of subjects and greatest variation of style ever before attempted in a work of this character.

The systematic progress pursued in the construction of this New and Original Method of Teaching, introduces features which not only attract the youthful attention, but hold the interest throughout the most advanced portions of the work.

THE JUNIOR CARTOONIST produces a happy combination of practice, pleasure, play and pastime with pencils, pastels, paints and paper, whereby the production of comic figures, landscapes, grotesque animals, ornamental designs, flowers or cartoons of a humorous tendency, is made almost as easy as the ordinary, purposeless, scribbling of the untrained hand.

It is a well known and indisputable fact that boys and girls take more kindly to instructions of a humorous nature than to the more conventional work usually imposed for the purpose of advancement. This has been taken into serious consideration in the preparation of THE JUNIOR CARTOONIST.

This book contains 140 pages, size 11x13, and includes the necessary drawing paper for the reproduction of all subjects.

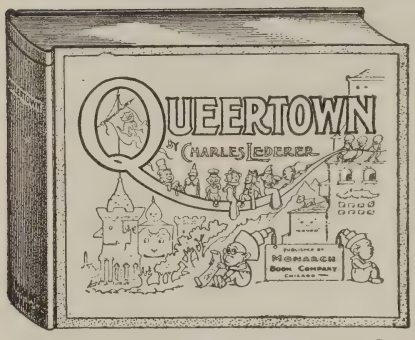
"More fun than a barrel of monkeys"

Queertown

The Rhyme and Picture of the Funniest of Funny Folk

By CHARLES LEDERER



Besides being the c everest and most profusely illustrated book ever published for boys and girls, it is beyond a doubt the merriest of them all.

QUEERTOWN is a veritable chronicle in picture and verse of the oddest and quaintest of all funny folk.

The artist-author's eminence as a cartoonist, and his varied experience as a writer and illustrator of juvenile literature, placed him in an advantageous position in the preparation of this elaborate book. Unlike many others, Mr. Lederer had not made amusement for the little ones by means of his pen, pencil and brush, a side issue, for his time and talent are entirely devoted to this interesting and congenial work.

A distinguishing feature of Queertown is because of the fact that the colored pictures appear on every page from beginning to end.

QUEERTOWN is a joy between covers.

The points of superiority in Queertown's make-up are so varied and apparent that its instantaneous favor with Young America is not marvelous.

While Queertown is bound to please "children of an older growth"—for its pages fairly revel with spontaneous, clean humor—the jingling text is in simple language, and the clearly drawn pictures are intensified with such a vivid color scheme that the tiniest tot can not fail to be enchanted.

QUEERTOWN is a book of 150 extra large pages, illumined with seven-color printings in brilliant aquatype hues and harmonizing tints.

There isn't a spot or corner in Queertown that is dull or commonplace—even the landscapes frolic — the turreted castles cut capers—the very trees are sportive, and the humble hovels and shanties romp in a gay and festive manner. It is a book in which every stroke is a jest.

QUEERTOWN is so chock full of fun that hours may be passed in its perusal where ordinarily minutes would suffice.

As well might one try to express in words the lively, catchy tune of a popular air from the latest comic opera as to give adequate description of the gladsome wit and humor of Queertown.

True artistic merit is combined with the quintessence of rhythmic fun, for every picture of the quizzically quaint quidnuncs of Queertown contains a delicacy of execution and a refinement of color treatment that entrances the young reader and accounts for the immediately popular success of the book.

QUEERTOWN does not contain a single tiresome, humdrum page.

The lithographed covers of Queertown sparkle with the brilliant color effects of seven printings of a design made specially for the book by the artist author.

QUEERTOWN really bubbles with drollery and radiates fun in every quarter.

Contains over a hundred colored pages on extra quality special made paper. Handsomely bound in boards. Cloth back. Covers in 7 colors.

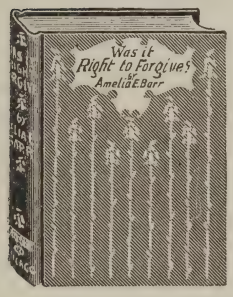
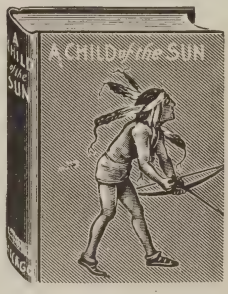
WAS IT RIGHT TO FORGIVE? Amelia E. Barr



This story is a thrilling domestic romance of two families of different standing in the social world. A brother and sister of one, both of whom have had high ideals of life and morality inherited and instilled into their lives by their noble father, each fall in love with a sister and brother of one whose only thought was social progression. This ambition dwarfed both the moral and spiritual principles of the latter. But love is either blind, or has more faith in what it believes it can accomplish than a matter-of-fact person is willing to concede, and so these two young couples were married, the former brother and sister willing to devote their lives in saving the latter from their own sins. The real interesting part begins with married life. It is a story of successes and failures, joy and woe, of patience and remorse. One is finally rewarded by a lifelong devotion, the other reconciliation occurs only after years of almost superhuman endurance.

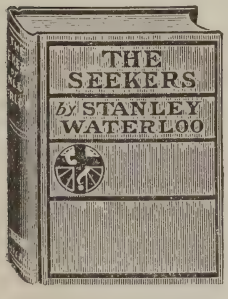
Was it right to forgive? Read it, and you will be as undecided as to the correct answer as have a great many others.

A CHILD OF THE SUN. By Charles Eugene Banks



A Child of the Sun is the only complete dramatic story of Indian life in North America. It sets forth the history of the tribe of the "Arctides," a legendary people mentioned in Schoolcraft's Annals of the American Indian. Schoolcraft was a schoolmate of Longfellow and gave to him the material for Hiawatha, which is the only other narrative besides "A Child of the Sun" that deals with Indians in their family, social, religious, and romantic relations. Waupello, the hero of Mr. Bank's chronicle, is the fulfilment of prophecy handed down through centuries. "A Child of the Sun" (all Indians are sun worshipers) is a dramatic recital of the trials, ambitions, loves, defeats, and final conquest of the Arctides from Genesis to Revelation. It is mythological in character, dramatic in treatment, and poetical in expression. It is the great story of human struggle between Good and Evil personified in typical Indian characters. The sixteen full-page illustrations are from life studies made by the famous painter Louis Betts. The book has been adopted by the State of Illinois for supplementary reading in the public schools. It gives so true account of Indian history, mythology, and the inner life of this most interesting people that the author was adopted into the Iroquois tribe and given the name Te-o-nou-yata, which signifies Clean-Souled-Truth-Teller.

THE SEEKERS



What is implied here is the whole story of Christian Science and the broader thought. "The Seekers" is the story of the seekers after truth. There has swept over the world recently a wave of new thought, leading away, it may be, from sects, but ever seeking the great Religion. There have been Buddhah, and Confucius, and Mahomet, and Christ, and half a hundred others, giving definite forms to religion; but there appears to be just now a desire of the world for something broader, even when in thought it may be less definite.

In the story of "The Seekers," Mr. Waterloo has tried to tell with all intensity the story of the Seeking. It is the only book in the world which tells this story.

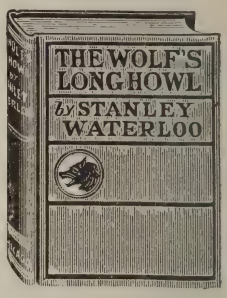
THE WOLF'S LONG HOWL



When Kipling wrote "The Brushwood Boy," and girl, he knew what he was writing. He did not know, or, rather, did not care what he was writing, either, because he was utterly reckless in his expression of thought and of his own fancies. The result was that he made a marvel of this story, as, in many instances, of the accompanying stories that appeared in the same volume of tales.

Mr. Waterloo, in the collection under the title, "The Wolf's Long Howl," has written with equal abandonment; and there is none other such collection of short stories printed in the United States, save those of Edgar Allan Poe. As of a single story, Charles Warren Stoddard wrote, cursing the author most profoundly but most genially, and saying, "The Ulm has kept me awake of nights." This is the quality of these stories.

THE STORY OF A STRANGE CAREER

There is probably not in all the analytical history of character, anything more remarkable than this "Story of a Strange Career." Here was a criminal who told his own story. He hired another criminal to write it for him, and Mr. Waterloo is but the translator and transcriber for this extraordinary man. The convict was a sailor and a murderer. He was the one man in the state penitentiary in Jefferson City, Mo., and in the penitentiary at Joliet, Ill., who could climb up the corner walls of a room. He had an extraordinary career during the War of the Rebellion, and made a somewhat creditable record. But he was a thief and a murderer by instinct.

He entered upon a career of deliberate crime, almost incomparable, with Vidoucq, and then, with consumption's grasp upon him, told the story of his own life. This is "The Story of a Strange Career." It is fascinating in its astounding revelations of the depths of human being.

A FAIR BRIGAND. By George Horton

In this book the author takes two young Americans, one a student of ancient inscriptions, the other a traveler, to see Olympus. On their way they are captured by the King Brigand and held for ransom. The brigand has a very beautiful daughter living in the mountains, who falls in love with the student. He reciprocates through his friend only because of the hope of escape which they both see through this channel. This is accomplished and the girl flees with the captives to Athens. The student wishes to devote his time to research work and give up the girl; but urged by his friend in captivity, backed up by the Consul at Athens, an enterprising American newspaper reporter, and society in general, he marries the fair brigand. After marriage, little time does he give his beautiful young wife. She meets a dashing young fellow and although she wishes to be true to her husband she has not the strength of character to resist temptation. She falls but realizes too late what she has done. Then her wild, mountainous nature seizes her and she seeks revenge and secures it.

A marvel of condensation. This book settles more arguments and answers more of the questions and problems of every-day life than any other Cyclopedia ever published, whether in one or in thirty volumes. "The era is fast approaching when no writer will be read by the majority except those who can effect for bales of manuscript what the hydrostatic screw performs for bales of cotton—condense into a period what before occupied a page."—Cotter. Besides, there are hundreds of accurate and original tables which will come handy for every man at some time in his life, and which are simply invaluable for those engaged in any trade or profession. It is in the tabular form that information can be most compactly presented. Many single tables of the many hundreds in this book, occupying but very little space, required weeks of labor in preparation. There are tables for almost every trade and profession, and most of them were prepared or revised with the assistance of practical men actively engaged in the calling for which the information is most useful. The book is invaluable for all classes and conditions of people—for the educated as a book of reference; for the unlearned as a storehouse of knowledge; for the workers in all the callings of life as a helping companion. No trade or profession has been overlooked. The book is equally useful in the home, the study, the office and the workshop. Business and professional men keep it constantly at their elbow. THE GRAFTERS OF AMERICA

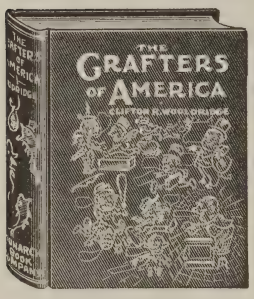
WHO THEY ARE AND HOW THEY WORK.



This book furnishes one of the most dramatic chapters in the financial history of the United States, if not in the world. It involves millions of stolen dollars, brutal filching from the poor, heartless commercial brigandage, and finally the running to earth and conviction of the ringleaders and promoters of scores of fraudulent get-rich-quick concerns.

This great production is not a ponderous volume filled with dry statistics, but is made up of thrilling accounts which depict the most noteworthy incidence in the lives of "grafting skinners" found in the large cities.

A conservative estimate of the sum contributed annually by this highly civilized nation to "safe investment" and "get-rich-quick" swindlers is $150,000,000.

The "Grafters" referred to in this book promoted many specious schemes to lure the elusive dollar from the pockets of unwary victims. These operatives are sharp, smooth, and unscrupulous—the most dangerous of criminal perverts. They are received with open arms in social and business circles. Their contributions to the church plate are accepted without an unsavory taint arising and entering the nostrils of the collector. Their wives and daughters visit in automobiles, dazzle at social functions, and parade before the admiring eyes of gaping "suckers" in silks, satins, furs and diamonds.

With sun-shaded eyes scanning the distance, these birds of prey skim the fair horizon of human faith. Of this brood some are the eagles of crime, while others are patent medicine vultures, home-buying swindlers, fake bond investments, turf swindles and blind pools, fake mining concerns, etc.

Every time a "get-rich-quick" bubble bursts, there follows a long, dreary story of misplaced confidence. The exposure of fraud unfolds the incredible credulity of human beings. But as soon as active publicity ceases the dearly-bought lesson is forgotten and the "sucker" is ready to spring for the next tempting bait.

This book also contains Detective Clifton R. Woolridge's "Never Fail" System, the only sure way of beating the "get-rich-quick" grafters and swindlers. Be wise now. Feather your nest.

This book contains 500 pages, size 6 x 9 inches, bound in cloth, profusely illustrated from special-drawn pictures and photographs taken at the scene of action while arresting desperate criminals and law breakers, swindlers and get-rich-quick schemers in their flight to high finances. $1.50

A portfolio containing eight superb pictures of nude subjects free with each volume. YOUNG PEOPLE'S CLASSICS

ROBINSON CRUSOE

BY DANIEL DEFOE

Robinson Crusoe stands alone as the book of books in its power to fascinate, interest and elevate the youthful mind. It has greatly assisted in promoting the growth of that manly, truthful, self-relying and humane spirit, by the exercise of which the English-speaking races have made such rapid strides in civilization. Defoe is entitled to rank as the author of the most entertaining and truth-like fiction that has ever been or perhaps ever will be produced. Most people are familiar with this good old story, but it has lost none of its popularity by age; on the contrary, the past century and a half has added to, and on this account we have gone to considerable expense and trouble in publishing this excellent edition, which is beautifully illustrated, from wood engravings. It contains 497 pages and 100 illustrations, making it one of the handsomest editions ever published for the money. Durably bound in fine cloth, stamped in inks.....$1.25

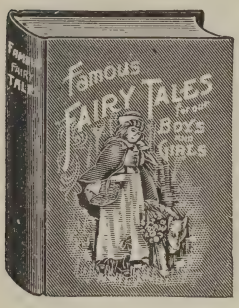
FAMOUS FAIRY TALES



And other wonderful classics of childhood retold for our boys and girls of today. The old-fashioned fairy tales by Grim and others are away the most popular ever written, but generally speaking, the language has been too difficult for children to read; consequently, at the expense of time and money, we have had the language reduced into words of one syllable, or nearly so as possible, thus making it intelligible to the very youngest of children. The following are among some of the well-known stories in this book: "Cinderella and the Crystal Slipper," "The Wolf and the Fox," "Babes in the Woods," "The House that Jack Built," "Jack, the Giant Killer," "Little Red Riding Hood," "Jack and the Bean Stalk," "The Three Bears," etc., etc. The cream of a hundred classics condensed into one volume, making a total of 30 carefully selected "Tales" from the world's juvenile fairy lore. Any one of these stories, when purchased separately, cost from 25 to 50 cents each. To purchase them all separately bound requires an outlay of from $5 to $8. These "Tales," published in one volume of 288 pages, set in new type, printed on fine paper, with 8 beautiful colored plates. Also many attractive pictures throughout the text illustrating the stories. Size, 8 inches wide, 10 inches long. Bound in heavy board, lithograph cover, cloth back.... .....$1.00

THE NIGHT BEFORE CHRISTMAS

This celebrated poem, describing a visit from St. Nicholas, is here reproduced in most magnificent style. Each printed page bears a separate design in red and black ink, emblematic of Christmas time, and surrounded by a handsome holly border. Not a bit of type is used in the entire book. Every letter is drawn by hand, and scattered through the verses are dainty etchings of toys, Christmas trees, stockings, reindeer, bells, sleighs, Santa Claus on the roof, going down the chimney and distributing toys, little children asleep and waking—in fact, every incident in this masterpiece of juvenile poetry. The remaining pages are large full-page lithographed illustrations. The book is beautifully bound, bearing on the varnished double cover a beautiful emblematic design in ten colors and gold. Size, 9x11 inches; 16 pages 50c

After Dinner Stories

A five minutes recital of a witty story is worth an hour's oration of sober facts. The story, however, must be genuinely humorous. The compiler of this book has endeavored to produce a book distinctly different from anything published. Each of the several stories on each of the ninety-six pages is good. There is not a dry page in the book. The stories are short, pithy, clever, and above all, easy to remember. Owing to the quantity of anecdotes there is almost an unlimited variety.

There will be found a story for every occasion; for every time that—"That Reminds You."

TO THE BOOKSELLER

IF you have not already sold my line of net price publications with no discount whatever except to the trade, do you not think this would be a good time to begin? While other publishers are just awaking to the absolute necessity of ensuring to booksellers a guaranteed net price, I have consistently adhered to this method of pricing my books since 1891 — (when I published my first volume) and have never found reason to regret it.

The line now represents upwards of two hundred titles and is known not only in America but abroad as being of an unique order of excellence. All books are put up with outside wrappers, in separate slide cases, a small attention to detail the dealer will appreciate who places a stock order.

It may be taken as a well-known fact that there is a saving remnant of high-class book-buyers in every city. Hence it follows that attention once directed toward your carrying my publications in stock would undoubtedly result in your favour as well as mine. In other lines of business the sale of a specialty has long been recognized as a valuable aid in extending one's sphere of influence. That THE MOSHER BOOKS are a specialty some of the largest houses in this country have not failed to discover.

As a practical suggestion I would say begin with my best sellers, to wit: the Vest Pocket Series, Ideal Series, Brocade Series, Old World Series, and Lyric Garland. A new and complete descriptive CATALOGUE OF THE MOSHER BOOKS with trade terms and discounts on application.

MISCELLANEOUS

34 VOLUMES

MISCELLANEOUS is the heading under which Mr. Mosher has brought together such of his publications as from variety of format and still greater variety of subject would seem impossible to include in any special series. Mr. Mosher's idea of a Series is that it should have some consistency of plan; a confused assembly of all sorts of books may be commercially profitable, but from every other standpoint is æsthetically bad and intellectually depressing! These thirty-four Miscellaneous volumes are admirable on grounds peculiar to themselves, and it is our intention to offer from year to year a few pleasing examples of choice book-making under this head which will be at once unique in style and moderate in price.

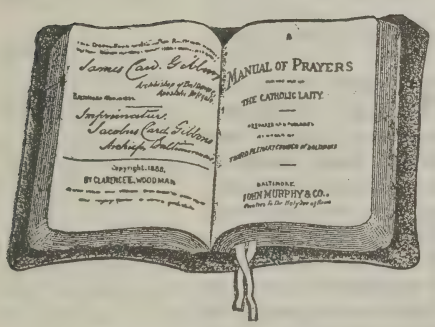
MANUAL OF PRAYERS.

CARDINAL'S RESIDENCE,
408 N. CHARLES ST.,
BALTIMORE.

I urge upon all Catholics the use of the MANUAL OF PRAYERS, the Prayer Book authorized by the last Plenary Council of Baltimore.

J. Card Gibbons



"We have certainly had no stint of prayer books before the appearance of this one; but had there not been room for another it is certain that the Fathers of the Third Plenary Council would not have ordered one to be prepared and published. It was partly because of this very plentifulness that such action was taken, for many editions, with all kinds of titles, have been put upon the market, some of them even without Episcopal approbation, some still bearing the imprimatur of Bishops long since dead, and some even, sad to say, appearing with a supposed approval which they had not received. A great many, even of the old editions, were exact reprints of foreign books that contained matter not suitable for this country and ignoring matters that should be found in every American prayer book. Besides, in most cases, the ruling of the authorities in Rome regarding the printing of portions of the Mass and other parts of the liturgy in Latin was not complied with; and several publishers, in their eagerness to outdo rivals, inserted much matter that should have no place in a prayer book, as having no reference to any service or function in the church, but belonging rather to a work of pious reading or instruction. Many prayer books were thus made far too bulky for general use.

"It was with a view of correcting these abuses that the Manual before us was ordered to be prepared, and the priest to whom the work was entrusted has performed his duty faithfully and well. Having, in the first place used nothing that was of doubtful authority and utility, he then submitted proof sheets of his book to the inspection of all the Bishops of the country, and their views on every point he has strictly complied with. It has the imprimatur of Cardinal Gibbons, the Primate of the United States, and of the late Archbishop Corrigan, of New York, who had special supervision of the work, and the endorsement of the entire American Hierarchy."

—The American Quarterly Review.

MANUAL OF PRAYERS

FOR THE USE OF THE CATHOLIC LAITY.

792 Pages. 16mo. Size 4 x 5½ inches.

Prepared and Published by Order of the Third Plenary Council of Baltimore.

ENDORSED BY EVERY ARCHBISHOP AND BISHOP IN THE UNITED STATES.

The only Complete Compendium of the Prayers and Ceremonies of the Church ever compiled having a replete explanation of each of the Sacraments, aiding Catholics and converts to fully understand the sacred offices of the Catholic Church.

This being finished, the Priest takes the paten with the Host [if it is Solemn Mass, the Deacon hands the Priest the paten with the Host], and, offering it up, says:

SUSCIPE, sancte Pater, omnipotens, æterne Deus, hanc immaculatam Hostiam, quam ego indignus famulus tuus offero tibi Deo meo vivo et vero, pro innumerabilibus peccatis, et offensionibus, et negligentiis meis, et pro omnibus circumstantibus; sed et pro omnibus fidelibus Christianis, vivis atque defunctis; ut mihi et illis proficiat ad salutem in vitam æternam. Amen.

ACCEPT, O Holy Father, Almighty, Everlasting God, this stainless Host, which I, Thine unworthy servant, offer unto Thee, my God, living and true, for mine innumerable sins, offences, and negligences, and for all here present; as also for all faithful Christians, both living and dead, that it may be profitable for my own and for their salvation unto life eternal. Amen.

Then, making the sign of the Cross with the paten, he places the Host upon the corporal. The Priest pours wine and water into the chalice, blessing the water before it is mixed, saying:

DEUS, ✠ qui humanæ substantiæ dignitatem mirabiliter condidisti, et mirabilius reformasti: da nobis per hujus aquæ et vini mysterium, ejus divinitatis esse consortes, qui humanitatis nostræ fieri dignatus est particeps, Jesus Christus, Filius tuus, Dominus noster;

O GOD, ✠ who hast wonderfully framed man's exalted nature, and still more wonderfully restored it: grant us, by the mystic signification of this commingling of water and wine, to become partakers of His Godhead who vouchsafed to become partaker of our manhood,

ST. VINCENT'S MANUAL.

966 Pages. 16mo. Size 4 x 5¾ Inches.

The universal popularity of this Manual among the Rev. Clergy and the people of the country—which has steadily increased from its first appearance,—renders it needless to enlarge upon its merits here. Originally prepared for use of the Sisters of Charity, it became not only their ordinary manual, but that of many thousands of pious Catholics throughout the land.

Many devotions, not usually found in prayer books, have been included in this edition: such as the prayers of Bona Mors, Meditations for every day in the year, The Scapular, The Living Rosary, The Month of May, etc., etc., making it complete, accurate and convenient.

'44 PRAYERS AT MASS.

Prayers at Mass.

A DEVOUT METHOD OF HEARING MASS.

Making the sign of the Cross with the Priest, say,

IN the name of the Father, ✠ and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

I will draw near to Thy altar, O my God, there to gain new strength and vigor to my soul; separate me from those unbelievers who have no trust in Thee; grant me that grace which comforts me when the remembrance of my sins afflicts and casts me down; that grace which lets me know there is an everlasting refuge in Thy goodness, and that Thou art ready to forgive even our greatest sins upon a sincere repentance.

THE BENEDICTION.

Receive this blessing from the priest as being given you in the name of the Lord. Thank Him sincerely for the favors here granted you; lay up with care the fruits of this Sacrifice, and let your conduct be such that all who see you may clearly perceive how much you have profited by so holy an action.

MOST holy and adorable Trinity! by Thee we have begun this sacrifice, by Thee we desire to conclude it; we therefore shall not leave Thee, until Thou bless us. Give us, O Lord! Thy blessing, by the hands of this priest; may it ever remain with us; may it influence our actions, and be the sure pledge of that last benediction, which Thy elect shall receive, when called by Thee into Eternal glory.

THE LAST GOSPEL.

DIVINE Word, only Son of the Father, Light of the world! who camest from Heaven to show us the way to it, I adore Thy Majesty with the most profound respect. I place

Ordinary of the Mass.

The Priest begins at the foot of the Altar.

IN nomine Patris ✠ et Filii, et Spiritus Sancti. Amen.

Ant. Introibo ad altare Dei.

R. Ad Deum, qui lætificat juventutem meam.

IN the name of the Father, ✠ and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

Ant. I will go unto the altar of God.

R. To God, who giveth joy to my youth.

PSALM xlii.

P. JUDICA me, Deus, et discerne causam meam de gente non sancta: ab homine iniquo et doloso erue me.

R. Quia tu es, Deus, fortitudo mea, quare me repulisti? Et quare tristis incedo, dum affligit me inimicus?

P. Emitte lucem tuam, et veritatem tuam: ipsa me deduxerunt, et adduxerunt in montem

P. JUDGE me, O God, and distinguish my cause from the nation that is not holy: deliver me from the unjust and deceitful man.

R. For thou, O God, art my strength: why hast thou cast me off? And why do I go sorrowful while the enemy afflicteth me?

P. Send forth thy light and thy truth: they have conducted me and brought me to thy holy mount,

LORD Jesus Christ, Son of the living God, who, when thy passion drew near wouldst for me, wretched sinner, fear and grow sad; grant that I may ever direct all my sorrows unto thee, the God of my heart: and thou, O Lord, in union of thy passion and sorrow, deign to assist me to bear them with patience, that by the merits of thy sufferings, they may be saving to me. Amen.

The Following of Christ.

FIRST BOOK.

USEFUL ADMONITIONS FOR A SPIRITUAL LIFE.

CHAPTER 1.

OF FOLLOWING CHRIST, AND DESPISING ALL THE VANITIES OF THE WORLD.

"HE that followeth me, walketh not in darkness," saith our Lord. (John 8, 12.) These are the words of Christ, by which we are admonished that we must imitate His life and manners, if we would be truly enlightened, and delivered from all blindness of heart.

Let it then be our chief study to meditate on the life of Jesus Christ.

2. The doctrine of Christ surpasseth all the doctrines of the saints; and whosoever hath the Spirit, will find therein a hidden manna.

But it happeneth that many, by frequent hearing the gospel, are very little affected; because they have not the Spirit of Christ.

THE BOOK OF EXODUS.

The Second Book of MOSES is called EXODUS, from the Greek word EXODOS, which signifies going out: because it contains the history of the going out of the children of Israel out of Egypt. The Hebrews, from the words with which it begins, call it VEELLE SEMOTH: These are the names. It contains transactions for 145 years; that is, from the death of Joseph to the erecting of the tabernacle.

CHAPTER 1.

The Israelites are multiplied in Egypt. They are oppressed by a new king, who commandeth all their male children to be killed.

THESE are the names of the children of Israel, that went into Egypt with Jacob: they went in, every man with his household: [r]

2 Ruben, Simeon, Levi, Juda,
3 Issachar, Zabulon, and Benjamin,
4 Dan, and Nephtali, Gad and Aser.

8 In the mean time there arose a new king over Egypt, that knew not Joseph:

9 And he said to his people: Behold the people of the children of Israel are numerous and stronger than we.

10 Come, let us wisely oppress them, lest they multiply: and if any war shall rise against us, join with our enemies, and having overcome us, depart out of the land.

How to Read
THE "COMBINATION" BIBLE.

The King James Version is the basis, and this version is read straight along from the text, while the Revised Version is read from the text in combination with the foot-notes. These notes give all words and passages of the Revised Version where it differs from the King James Version. To show where these differences occur we make use of two reference letters:

RV just before a word or passage shows how the same word or passage is rendered in the Revised Version as seen in the corresponding foot-note.

RO before a word or passage in the text indicates that the words inclosed in parentheses in the foot-notes are omitted in the Revised Version.

The numbers of the verses in the foot-notes correspond to the numbers of the verses in which these changes occur. In every instance where the King James Version is changed, the change in the text, whether an addition or omission, is shown at the bottom of the page.

The different foot-notes are separated by dashes, which indicate a returning to the text, which is to be read until a new RV or RO indicates another change which will be found in the foot-notes.

Whenever any doubt arises as to where to continue in the text, connecting words (catch words) are used in the foot-notes, so that a foot-note often ends with one or two words common to both versions, which words accordingly are also found above in the text. By this arrangement the reading is made very simple and easy.

THE READING EXEMPLIFIED.

On this circular we print page 1129 of our Combination Bible, and the following paragraphs show how it is to be read. It is printed from an electrotype plate of this Bible, and shows the large clear type, size of page, etc.

The first RV in St. Luke appears in the first verse, before "set forth." In the King James Version the reading is, "set forth in order a declaration of those things which are most surely believed among us," By referring to verse 1 in the foot-notes, it will be seen that the Revised Version reads, "draw up a narrative concerning those matters which have been fulfilled among us,"

In the third verse the King James reads, "had perfect understanding of all things from the very first," By reference to the foot of page, it will be seen that the Revised Version reads, "traced the course of all things accurately from the first."

In the fourth verse there is an RV before the word "of." The King James Version reads, "of those things, wherein thou hast been instructed." By reference to figure 4 at foot of page it will be seen that the Revised Version reads, "concerning the things wherein thou wast instructed."

In the fifth verse there is an RO which denotes an omission. Refer to the foot-notes, and (the) will be found in parenthesis. Every omission is placed in a parenthesis in the foot-notes, and the Revised Verson in this instance reads, "Herod, king of Judea," the word "the" not appearing before "king," as it does in the Old Version.

Thus it is seen that the Revised Version is easily read in connection with the King James Version. The system is so simple and so easily understood that no reader finds any difficulty in comparing the two versions.

☞ We also publish a large type Self-Pronouncing edition containing the King James Version only.

Christ eateth the passover. ST. MATTHEW, XXVI. His agony in the garden.

A. D. 33.

13 Verily I say unto you, Wheresoever this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, [rv]there shall also this, that this woman hath done, be told for a memorial of her.

14 ¶ [h]Then one of the twelve, [rv] called [i] Jū′das Ĭs-căr′ĭ-ot, went unto the chief priests,

15 And said [ro]unto them, [k] What [rv] will ye give me, and I will deliver him unto you? And they [rv] covenanted with him for thirty pieces of silver.

16 And from that time he sought opportunity to [rv] betray him.

17 ¶ [l] Now [rv] the first day of [ro] the feast of unleavened bread the disciples came to Jē′sus, saying [ro] unto him, Where wilt thou that we [rv] prepare for thee to eat the passover?

27 And he took [rv] the cup, and gave thanks, and gave [ro] it to them, saying, [t] Drink ye all of it;

28 For [u] this is my blood [x] of the [rv] new testament, which is shed [y] for many [rv] for [ro] the remission of sins.

29 But [z] I say unto you, I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, [a] until that day when I drink it new with you in my Father's kingdom.

30 [b] And when they had sung [rv] an [3] hymn, they went out [rv] into the mount of Ŏl′ĭves.

31 Then saith Jē′sus unto them, [c] All ye shall [d] be offended [rv] because of me this night: for it is written, [e] I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered abroad.

CHAPTER 11.

Lazarus raised from death.

NOW a certain man was sick, named Lăz'a-rus, of Bĕth'ă-ny, the town of Mā'ry and her sister Mär'thȧ.

2 (It was that Mā'ry which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair, whose brother Lăz'a-rus was sick.)

3 Therefore his sisters sent unto him, saying, Lord, behold, he whom thou lovest is sick.

4 When Jē'sus heard that, he said, This sickness is not unto death, but for the glory of God, that the Son of God might be glorified thereby.

5 Now Jē'sus loved Mär'thȧ, and her sister, and Lăz'a-rus.

6 When he had heard therefore that he was sick, he abode two days still in the same place where he was.

7 Then after that saith he to his disciples, Let us go into Jū-dæ'ȧ again.

8 His disciples say unto him, Master, the Jews of late sought to stone thee; and goest thou thither again?

9 Jē'sus answered, Are there not twelve hours in the day? If any man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world.

10 But if a man walk in the night, he

23 Jē'sus saith unto her, Thy brother shall rise again.

24 Mär'thȧ saith unto him, I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day.

25 Jē'sus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live:

26 And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Believest thou this?

27 She saith unto him, Yea, Lord: I believe that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, which should come into the world.

28 And when she had so said, she went her way, and called Mā'ry her sister secretly, saying, The Master is come, and calleth for thee.

29 As soon as she heard that, she arose quickly, and came unto him.

30 Now Jē'sus was not yet come into the town, but was in that place where Mär'thȧ met him.

31 The Jews then which were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they saw Mā'ry, that she rose up hastily and went out, followed her, saying, She goeth unto the grave to weep there.

32 Then when Mā'ry was come where

CHAPTER 26.

The rulers conspire against Christ.

AND it came to pass, when Jē'şus had finished all these rv sayings, he said unto his disciples,

2 Ye know that after two days rv is the feast of the passover, and the Son of man is rv betrayed to be crucified.

3 Then rv assembled together the chief priests, ro and the scribes, and the elders of the people, unto the rv palace of the high priest, who was called Cā'ĭa-phās,

4 And rv consulted that they might take Jē'şus by subtilty, and kill him.

5 But they said, Not rv on the feast day, lest there be an uproar among the people.

6 ¶ Now when Jē'şus was in Bĕth'ă-nў, in the house of Sī'mon the leper,

7 There came unto him a woman having an alabaster rv box of very precious ointment, and rv poured it on his head, as he sat at meat.

8 But when rv his disciples saw it, they had indignation, saying, To what purpose is this waste?

9 For this ointment might have been sold for much, and given to the poor.

10 rv When Jē'şus understood it, he said unto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought a good work upon me.

11 For ye have the poor always with you; but me ye have not always.

12 For in that she ro hath poured this ointment rv on my body, she did it rv for my burial.

13 Verily I say unto you, Wheresoever this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, rv there shall also this, that this woman hath done, be told for a memorial of her.

14 ¶ Then one of the twelve, rv called Jū'das Is-căr'ĭ-ot, went unto the chief priests,

15 And said ro unto them, What rv will ye give me, and I will deliver him unto you? And they rv covenanted with him for thirty pieces of silver.

16 And from that time he sought opportunity to rv betray him.

17 ¶ Now rv the first day of the feast of unleavened bread the disciples came to Jē'şus, saying ro unto him, Where wilt thou that we rv prepare for thee to eat the passover?

18 And he said, Go into the city to such a man, and say unto him, The Master saith, My time is at hand; I ro will keep the passover at thy house with my disciples.

19 And the disciples did as Jē'şus ro had appointed them; and they made ready the passover.

20 Now when ro the even was come, he rv sat down with the twelve.

21 And as they rv did eat, he said, Verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me.

22 And they were exceeding sorrowful, and began rv every one of them to say unto him, Lord, is it I?

23 And he answered and said, He that rv dippeth his hand with me in the dish, the same shall betray me.

24 The Son of man goeth rv as it is written of him: but woe unto that man rv by whom the Son of man is betrayed! it rv had been good for that man if he had not been born.

25 rv Then Jū'das, which betrayed him, answered and said, rv Master, is it I? He said unto him, Thou hast said.

26 ¶ And as they were eating, Jē'şus took bread, and blessed rv it, and brake it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat; this is my body.

27 And he took rv the cup, and gave thanks, and gave ro it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it;

28 For this is my blood of the rv new testament, which is shed for many rv for the remission of sins.

29 But I say unto you, I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new with you in my Father's kingdom.

30 And when they had sung rv an hymn, they went out rv into the mount of ŏl'ĭves.

the court. And the king said, Let him come in.

6 So Hā'man came in. And the king said unto him, What shall be done unto the man [2]whom the king delighteth to honour? Now Hā'man thought in his heart, To whom would the king delight to do honour more than to myself?

7 And Hā'man answered the king, For the man [3]whom the king delighteth to honour,

8 [4]Let the royal apparel be brought [5]which the king useth to wear, and [d]the horse that the king rideth upon, and the crown royal which is set upon his head:

9 And let this apparel and horse be delivered to the hand of one of the king's most noble princes, that they may array the man withal whom the king delighteth to honour, and [6]bring him on horseback through the street of the city, [e]and proclaim before him, Thus shall it be done to the man whom the king delighteth to honour.

10 Then the king said to Hā'man, Make haste, and take the apparel and the horse, as thou hast said, and do even so to Môr'dĕ-cāi the Jew, that sitteth at the king's gate: [7]let nothing fail of all that thou hast spoken.

11 Then took Hā'man the apparel and the horse, and arrayed Môr'dĕ-cāi, and brought him on horseback through the street of the city, and proclaimed before him, Thus shall it be done unto the man whom the king delighteth to honour.

12 ¶ And Môr'dĕ-cāi came again to the king's gate. But Hā'man [f]hasted to his house mourning, [g]and having his head covered.

13 And Hā'man told Zē'resh his wife and all his friends every thing that had befallen him. Then said his wise men and Zē'resh his wife unto him, If Môr'dĕ-cāi be of the seed of the Jews, before whom thou hast begun to fall, thou shalt not prevail against him, but shalt surely fall before him.

14 And while they were yet talking with him, came the king's chamberlains, and hasted to bring Hā'man

1 Esther, entertaining the king and Haman, maketh suit for her own life and her people's. 5 She accuseth Haman. 7 The king in his anger, understanding of the gallows which Haman had made for Mordecai, causeth him to be hanged thereon.

SO the king and Hā'man came [8]to banquet with Ĕs'thĕr the queen.

2 And the king said again unto Ĕs'thĕr on the second day [a]at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition, queen Ĕs'thĕr? and it shall be granted thee: and what is thy request? and it shall be performed, even to the half of the kingdom.

3 Then Ĕs'thĕr the queen answered and said, If I have found favour in thy sight, O king, and if it please the king, let my life be given me at my petition, and my people at my request:

4 For we are [b]sold, I and my people, [9]to be destroyed, to be slain, and to perish. But if we had been sold for bondmen and bondwomen, I had held my tongue, although the enemy could not countervail the king's damage.

5 ¶ Then the king Ă-hăş-ū-ē'rŭs answered and said unto Ĕs'thĕr the queen, Who is he, and where is he, [10]that durst presume in his heart to do so?

6 And Ĕs'thĕr said, [11]The adversary and enemy is this wicked Hā'man. Then Hā'man was afraid [12]before the king and the queen.

7 ¶ And the king arising from the banquet of wine in his wrath went into the palace garden: and Hā'man stood up to make request for his life to Ĕs'thĕr the queen; for he saw that there was evil determined against him by the king.

8 Then the king returned out of the palace garden into the place of the banquet of wine; and Hā'man was fallen upon [c]the bed whereon Ĕs'thĕr was. Then said the king, Will he force the queen also [13]before me in the house? As the word went out of the king's mouth, they [d]covered Hā'man's face.

19 So shall they fear the name of the LORD from the west, and his glory from the rising of the sun. When the enemy shall come in like a flood, the Spirit of the LORD shall lift up a standard against him.

20 ¶ And the Redeemer shall come to Zion, and unto them that turn from transgression in Jacob, saith the LORD.

21 As for me, this is my covenant with them, saith the LORD; My Spirit that is upon thee, and my words which I have put in thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seed, nor out of the mouth of thy seed's seed, saith the LORD, from henceforth and for ever.

CHAPTER LX.

Glorious access of the Gentiles.

ARISE, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the LORD is risen upon thee.

2 For, behold, the darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the people: but the LORD shall arise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee.

3 And the Gentiles shall come to thy light, and kings to the brightness of thy rising.

4 Lift up thine eyes round about, and see: all they gather themselves together, they come to thee: thy sons shall come from far, and thy daughters shall be nursed at thy side.

5 Then thou shalt see, and flow together, and thine heart shall fear, and be enlarged; because the abundance of the sea shall be converted unto thee, the forces of the Gentiles shall come unto thee.

6 The multitude of camels shall cover thee, the dromedaries of Midian and Ephah; all they from Sheba shall come: they shall bring gold and incense; and they shall shew forth the praises of the LORD.

7 All the flocks of Kedar shall be gathered together unto thee, the rams of Nebaioth shall minister unto thee: they shall come up with acceptance on mine altar, and I will glorify the house of my glory.

8 Who are these that fly as a cloud, and as the doves to their windows?

9 Surely the isles shall wait for me, and the ships of Tarshish first, to bring thy sons from far, their silver and their gold with them, unto the name of the LORD thy God, and to the Holy One of Israel, because he hath glorified thee.

10 And the sons of strangers shall build up thy walls, and their kings shall minister unto thee: for in my wrath I smote thee, but in my favour have I had mercy on thee.

11 Therefore thy gates shall be open continually; they shall not be shut day nor night; that men may bring unto thee the forces of the Gentiles, and that their kings may be brought.

12 For the nation and kingdom that will not serve thee shall perish; yea, those nations shall be utterly wasted.

13 The glory of Lebanon shall come unto thee, the fir tree, the pine tree, and the box together, to beautify the place of my sanctuary; and I will make the place of my feet glorious.

14 The sons also of them that afflicted thee shall come bending unto thee; and all they that despised thee shall bow themselves down at the soles of thy feet; and they shall call thee, The city of the LORD, The Zion of the Holy One of Israel.

15 Whereas thou hast been forsaken and hated, so that no man went through thee, I will make thee an eternal excellency, a joy of many generations.

16 Thou shalt also suck the milk of the Gentiles, and shalt suck the breast of kings: and thou shalt know that I the LORD am thy Saviour and thy Redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob.

17 For brass I will bring gold, and for iron I will bring silver, and for wood brass, and for stones iron: I will also make thy officers peace, and thine exactors righteousness.

18 Violence shall no more be heard in thy land, wasting nor destruction within thy borders; but thou shalt call thy walls Salvation, and thy gates Praise.

19 The sun shall be no more thy light by day; neither for brightness shall the moon give light unto thee: but the LORD shall be unto thee an everlasting light, and thy God thy glory.

20 Thy sun shall no more go down; neither shall thy moon withdraw itself: for the LORD shall be thine everlasting light, and the days of thy mourning shall be ended.

21 Thy people also shall be all righteous: they shall inherit the land for ever, the branch of my planting, the work of my hands, that I may be glorified.

22 A little one shall become a thousand, and a small one a strong nation: I the LORD will hasten it in his time.

CHAPTER LXI.

The office of Christ.

THE Spirit of the Lord GOD is upon me; because the LORD hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek; he hath sent me to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound;

2 To proclaim the acceptable year of the LORD, and the day of vengeance of our God; to comfort all that mourn;

3 To appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, to give unto them beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; that they might be called Trees of righteousness, The planting of the LORD, that he might be glorified.

4 ¶ And they shall build the old wastes, they shall raise up the former desolations, and they shall repair the waste cities, the desolations of many generations.

5 And strangers shall stand and feed your flocks, and the sons of the alien shall be your ploughmen and your vinedressers.

6 But ye shall be named the Priests of the LORD: men shall call you the Ministers of our God: ye shall eat the riches of the Gentiles, and in their glory shall ye boast yourselves.

7 ¶ For your shame ye shall have double; and for confusion they shall rejoice in their portion: therefore in their land they shall possess the double: everlasting joy shall be unto them.

8 For I the LORD love judgment, I hate robbery for burnt offering; and I will direct their work in truth, and I will make an everlasting covenant with them.

9 And their seed shall be known among the mot himmelen, och det vardt ett tjockt mörker i Egyptens hela land i tre dagar.

23. Ingen kunde se den andre, och ingen stod upp ifrån sin plats i tre dagar. Men för alla Israels barn var ljust där de bodde.

24. Och Farao kallade Mose till sig och sade: Gån och tjänen Herren! Endast edra får och edra fäkreatur må stanna här! Äfven edra små barn må få gå med eder.

25. Och Mose sade: Du skall äfven låta oss få med oss slaktoffer och brännoffer att frambära åt Herren, vår Gud.

26. Och äfven vår boskap skall gå med oss, och ingen klöf lämnas kvar; ty af dem skola vi taga offer åt Herren, vår Gud, och vi veta icke hvad vi skola offra åt Herren förrän vi komma dit.

27. Men Herren förhärdade Faraos hjärta, att han icke ville släppa dem.

28. Och Farao sade till honom: Gack bort ifrån mig! Akta dig, att du icke ännu en gång ser mitt ansikte! ty den dag då du ser mitt ansikte skall du dö.

29. Och Mose svarade: Rätt har du talat. Jag skall icke hädanefter se ditt ansikte.

11 Kapitlet.

Mose kungör den sista plågan, som skulle drabba Egyptierna.

Och Herren sade till Mose: Ännu en plåga vill jag låta komma öfver Farao och öfver Egypten. Därefter skall han släppa eder härifrån. När han då släpper eder, skall han fullständigt utdrifva eder härifrån.

2. Säg till folket, så att alle höra det, att de skola begära, hvarje man af sin nästa, och hvarje kvinna af sin nästa, smycken af silfver och smycken af guld.

3. Och Herren gaf folket nåd för Egyptiernas ögon. Mose var ock en man af ganska stort anseende i Egyptens land, både i Faraos tjänares ögon och i folkets ögon.

4. Och Mose sade: Så säger Herren: vid midnattstid vill jag gå midt igenom Egypten,

5. och allt förstfödt i Egyptens land skall dö, ifrån Faraos förstfödde son, som sitter på sin tron, ända till tjänstekvinnans förstfödde, som står bakom handkvarnen, och allt förstfödt ibland boskapen. 2 Mos. 12: 29.

6. Och ett stort klagorop skall blifva i Egyptens hela land, sådant, att dess like aldrig har varit och aldrig skall blifva.

7. Men bland Israels barn skall icke en hund gläfsa med sin tunga, hvarken emot människor eller boskap, på det att I skolen förnimma, att Herren gör skillnad mellan Egypten och Israel.

8. Och alla dessa dina tjänare skola komma ned till mig och buga sig för mig och säga: drag ut du och allt folket, som följer dig! Och därefter skall jag draga ut. Och han gick ut från Farao i vredesmod.

9. Och emedan Herren hade sagt till Mose: Farao skall icke höra eder, på det att mina under skola många varda i Egyptens land,

10. så gjorde Mose och Aron alla dessa under inför Farao. Men Herren förhärdade Faraos hjärta, så att han icke släppte Israels barn utur sitt land.

12 Kapitlet

Påskalammet. Mordängeln. Israeliternas uppbrott.

Och Herren talade till Mose och Aron i Egyptens land och sade:

2. Denna månad skall vara den främste af edra månader, och ifrån den skolen I begynna årets månader.

3. Talen till Israels hela menighet och sägen: På tionde dagen i denna månaden tage man sig, efter fädernehusen, ett lamm för hvarje hushåll!

4. Och om ett hushåll är för litet till ett lamm, så tage husfadern och hans närmaste granne ett tillsammans, efter personernas antal! På hvarje lamm skolen I räkna ett visst antal personer, i mån af hvad de äta.

5. Ett felfritt lamm af hankön och årsgammalt skolen I taga. Af fåren eller getterna skolen I taga det.

6. Och I skolen förvara det intill fjortonde dagen i denna månaden.

HOW TO READ THE COMBINATION BIBLE

Below is part of a page of our Combination Bible. The following Key shows how it is to be read:

KEY—the first RV in St. Luke appears in the first verse, before "set forth." In the King James Version the reading is, "set forth in order a declaration of those things which are most surely believed among us." By referring to figure 1 in the foot-notes, it will be seen that the Revised Version reads, "draw up a narrative concerning those matters which have been fulfilled among us,"

In the third verse the King James reads, "had perfect understanding of all things from the very first," By reference to figure 3 at the foot of page, it will be seen that the Revised Version reads, "traced the course of all things accurately from the first,"

In the fourth verse there is an RV before the word "of." The King James Version reads, "of those things wherein thou hast been instructed." By reference to figure 4 at foot of page it will be seen that the Revised Version reads, "concerning the things wherein thou wast instructed."

In the fifth verse there is an RO which denotes an omission. Refer to the footnotes, and (the) will be found in parenthesis. Every omission is placed in a parenthesis in the foot-notes, and the Revised Version in this instance reads, "Herod, king of Judea," the word "the" not appearing before "king," as it does in the Old Version.

Thus it is seen that the Revised Version is easily read in connection with the King James Version. The system is so simple and so easily understood that no reader finds any difficulty in comparing one version with the other.

7 And they had no child, because that Ē-lĭz'ą-bĕth was barren, and they both were now well stricken in years.

8 [rv] And it came to pass, that while he executed the priest's office before God [k] in the order of his course,

9 According to the custom of the priest's office, his lot was [l] to [rv] burn incense when he went into the temple of the Lord.

10 [m] And the whole multitude of the people were praying without at the [rv] time of incense.

11 And there appeared unto him an angel of the Lord standing on the right side of [n] the altar of incense.

12 And [rv] when Zăch-ą-rī'as saw him, [o] he was troubled, and fear fell upon him.

13 But the angel said unto him, Fear not, Zăch-ą-rī'as: [rv] for thy prayer is heard; and thy wife Ē-lĭz'-

NEW MAPS.

THE CONCISE BIBLE DICTIONARY

which forms the Helps to Nelson's Teachers' Bibles is based on the Illustrated Bible Treasury, written by leading scholars in America and Great Britain each one a recognized authority on the subject on which he writes. It supplies in the most condensed and convenient form all the latest information about the Bible, its writers, its language, the various Versions, complete Chronology, Life of Christ with Harmony of the Gospels, Life and Travels of St. Paul, etc.

THE ILLUSTRATIONS

are reproduced from recent photographs and truly illustrate the articles where they appear.

THE COMBINED CONCORDANCE

combines Complete Concordance, Subject Index, Scripture Proper Names, Obsolete and Ambiguous words in one A-B-C list. It also gives the correct pronunciation and interpretation of Scripture Proper Names and has over 10,000 references to the Revised Version where it differs from the King James Version.

THE 12 MAPS

have been carefully revised and are beautifully colored, notably the reproduction of the Relief Map of Palestine lately published by the Palestine Exploration Society. There is also a complete index to every place noted on the maps.

"The new plan of putting the Helps in Dictionary form is a marked advance over anything yet in print."

THE INTERIOR says :—"This Bible will give more value to the Bible Teacher, Student or Reader, than any other edition of the great book."

For styles and prices, see pages 22 to 24 and 45.

SPECIMEN PAGE OF

THE CONCISE BIBLE DICTIONARY,

which forms the Helps of NELSON'S TEACHERS' BIBLES.

COPYRIGHTED BY THOMAS NELSON & SONS, 1900.

The ox was used by the Jews for ploughing, treading out the corn in threshing, and for draught, and was only killed for sacrifices and for great feasts. Cows' milk was used, both fresh and slightly curdled, and also churned into butter, or in the form of curds, often called "butter" in Scripture. In the Jordan valley the Indian buffalo has been introduced, probably from Persia, in post-Exilian times.

CEDAR [çē'dar] of Lebanon grows also on the Taurus and Atlas Mountains. It was the king of trees (1 Kings 4. 33), the symbol of grandeur, might, loftiness, and ever-increasing expansion. Its wood was used in the successive temples at Jerusalem and in the palace of Nebuchadrezzar. The cedar of Lev. 14. 4 and Num. 19. 6 is probably an aromatic juniper.

CENCHREA [çĕn'chre-â]. [See CORINTH.]

CHALCEDONY [chăl-çed'ŏ-nў] (Gr. chalkedon), Rev. 21. 19. One of the many varieties of minutely crystalline silica, of a light, often milky, color, related to agate (q.v.).

CHALDÆA [chăl-dē'â], the plain of Babylon, or Lower Mesopotamia; once a very fertile land, now a barren, sandy desert. One of its great cities was "Ur of the Chaldees."

CHALDÆANS [chăl-dē'ans]. [See BABYLONIA.]

CHALDEE [chal'dee]. [See ARAMAIC.]

CHAMELEON [chă-mē'lē-on]. [See LIZARD.]

CHAMOIS [chăm'ois, shăm'mў] (A. V. and R. V., Heb. "the leaper," Deut. 14. 5), the moufflon, or wild sheep.

CHARIOT [chăr'ĭ-ŏt] (Gen. 41. 43). The Israelites were familiar with chariots, as used by their enemies (Egyptians, Ex. 14. 25; Canaanites, Judg. 4. 3), long before they had them themselves. But David (2 Sam. 8. 4) and Solomon (1 Kings 10. 26) introduced both chariots and horses in ever-increasing numbers. They were two-wheeled vehicles, curved in front and open behind, in which two men could ride, one of whom drove (1 Kings 22. 34), while the other fought with bow or spear.

CHEDORLAOMER [chĕd'or-lā'o-mer]. [See ABRAHAM.]

CHEMOSH [chē'mŏsh], the god of the Moabites. [See MOABITE STONE.]

CHERUB [chĕr'ŭb] (plural CHERUBIM), a symbolical winged creature with a human face, associated in Scripture with the throne or chariot of Jehovah (Ps. 18. 10; 80. 1; 99. 1). In Gen. 3. 24 cherubim appear as the guardians of the approach to the tree of life. Two cherubim were placed on the mercy-seat or covering of the ark of the covenant in the Tabernacle and in the Temple, and figures representing cherubim were wrought into the hangings of the Holy of Holies. In Ezekiel's description (ch. 1 and 10; 41. 18, 19) they have a human body, with a head presenting the faces of a man, a lion, an ox, and an eagle, four hands, and four wings; the whole body of the cherubim and the wheels of the chariot being furnished with innumerable eyes. In Revelation the four faces of the cherubim are distributed among the four "living creatures" that surround the throne of God. [See GOSPELS.]

CHESTNUT-TREE [chĕst'nŭt-tree] (Gen. 30. 37; Ezek. 31. 8; R. V. plane-tree). It is a tall and majestic tree, growing near water in Palestine. From the globular form of the flowers and fruits it is often called button-tree.

CHITTIM [chĭt'tim] (also Kittim, Gen. 10. 4) is Greek Kition, the Phœnician port of Cyprus; the modern Larnaka. Hence Chittim is used in the Old Testament to denote the whole of Cyprus (e. g. Num. 24. 24).

CHRIST [chrīst] JESUS [jē'sus]. [See LIFE OF JESUS, pages 53–67; His Life and Works, see Concordance, under CHRIST; His Names, Titles, and Offices, see Concordance, under JESUS.]

CHRONICLES [chrŏn'ĭ-cles], THE FIRST AND SECOND BOOKS OF THE, are in the third part of the Jewish Canon, where they form one book, named "Words (or "Acts") of Days," i. e. minutes of events, lists of names, and the like. In the LXX. they are divided into two books, entitled Paraleipoměna, "things omitted" or "passed over." Their Latin title from the time of Jerome has been Chronica, "Chronicles." The priestly tone of the writer, and his preoccupation with the fortunes of the house of David and the kingdom of Judah, are marked features of the work, which runs parallel to the older history (Books of Samuel and Kings), and is mainly drawn from the same sources.

Israelites' task increased. EXODUS, V, VI. God reneweth his promise.

they heard that the LORD had visited the children of Israel, and that he had looked upon their affliction, then they bowed their heads and worshipped.

CHAPTER V.

1 Pharaoh chideth Moses and Aaron for their message. 5 He increaseth the Israelites' task. 15 He checketh their complaints. 20 They cry out upon Moses and Aaron. 22 Moses complaineth to God.

AND afterward Moses and Aaron went in, and told Pharaoh, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, Let my people go, that they may hold a feast unto me in the wilderness.

2 And Pharaoh said, Who is the LORD, that I should obey his voice to let Israel go? I know not the LORD, neither will I let Israel go.

3 And they said, The God of the Hebrews hath met with us: let us go, we pray thee, three days' journey into the desert, and sacrifice unto the LORD our God; lest he fall upon us with pestilence, or with the sword.

4 And the king of Egypt said unto them, shall no straw be given you, yet shall ye deliver the tale of bricks.

19 And the officers of the children of Israel did see that they were in evil case, after it was said, Ye shall not minish ought from your bricks of your daily task.

20 ¶ And they met Moses and Aaron, who stood in the way, as they came forth from Pharaoh:

21 And they said unto them, The LORD look upon you, and judge; because ye have made our savour to be abhorred in the eyes of Pharaoh, and in the eyes of his servants, to put a sword in their hand to slay us.

22 And Moses returned unto the LORD, and said, Lord, wherefore hast thou so evil entreated this people? why is it that thou hast sent me?

23 For since I came to Pharaoh to speak in thy name, he hath done evil to this people; neither hast thou delivered thy people at all.

David maketh a vow. PSALMS. Of the mercy of God.

PSALM 101.

David maketh a vow and profession of godliness.

A Psalm of David.

I WILL sing of mercy and judgment: unto thee, O LORD, will I sing.
2 I will behave myself wisely in a perfect way. O when wilt thou come unto me? I will walk within my house with a perfect heart.
3 I will set no wicked thing before mine eyes: I hate the work of them that turn aside; it shall not cleave to me.
4 A froward heart shall depart from me: I will not know a wicked person.
5 Whoso privily slandereth his neighbour, him will I cut off: him that hath an high look and a proud heart will not I suffer.
6 Mine eyes shall be upon the faithful of the land, that they may dwell with me: he that walketh in a perfect way, he shall serve me.
7 He that worketh deceit shall not dwell within my house: he that telleth lies shall not tarry in my sight.
8 I will early destroy all the wicked of the land; that I may cut off all wicked doers from the city of the LORD.

PSALM 102.

The prayer of the afflicted, when he is overwhelmed, and pleureth before the LORD.

A Prayer of the afflicted, when he is overwhelmed, and poureth out his complaint before the LORD.

HEAR my prayer, O LORD, and let my cry come unto thee.
2 Hide not thy face from me in the day when I am in trouble; incline thine ear unto me: in the day when I call answer me speedily.
3 For my days are consumed like smoke, and my bones are burned as an hearth.
4 My heart is smitten, and withered like grass; so that I forget to eat my bread.
5 By reason of the voice of my groaning my bones cleave to my skin.
6 I am like a pelican of the wilderness: I am like an owl of the desert.
7 I watch, and am as a sparrow alone upon the house top.
8 Mine enemies reproach me all the day; and they that are mad against me are sworn against me.
9 For I have eaten ashes like bread, and mingled my drink with weeping,
10 Because of thine indignation and thy wrath: for thou hast lifted me up, and cast me down.
11 My days are like a shadow that declineth; and I am withered like grass.
12 But thou, O LORD, shalt endure for ever; and thy remembrance unto all generations.
13 Thou shalt arise, and have mercy upon Zion: for the time to favour her, yea, the set time, is come.
14 For thy servants take pleasure in her stones, and favour the dust thereof.
15 So the heathen shall fear the name of the LORD, and all the kings of the earth thy glory.
16 When the LORD shall build up Zion, he shall appear in his glory.
17 He will regard the prayer of the destitute, and not despise their prayer.
18 This shall be written for the generation to come: and the people which shall be created shall praise the LORD.
19 For he hath looked down from the height of his sanctuary; from heaven did the LORD behold the earth;

God sheweth his power. JOB, 40. Job humbleth himself.

11 Wilt thou trust him, because his strength is great? or wilt thou leave thy labour to him?
12 Wilt thou believe him, that he will bring home thy seed, and gather it into thy barn?
13 Gavest thou the goodly wings unto the peacocks? or wings and feathers unto the ostrich?
14 Which leaveth her eggs in the earth, and warmeth them in dust,
15 And forgetteth that the foot may crush them, or that the wild beast may break them.
16 She is hardened against her young ones, as though they were not hers: her labour is in vain without fear;
17 Because God hath deprived her of wisdom, neither hath he imparted to her understanding.
18 What time she lifteth up herself on high, she scorneth the horse and his rider.
19 Hast thou given the horse strength? hast thou clothed his neck with thunder?
20 Canst thou make him afraid as a grasshopper? the glory of his nostrils is terrible.
21 He paweth in the valley, and rejoiceth in his strength: he goeth on to meet the armed men.
22 He mocketh at fear, and is not affrighted; neither turneth he back from the sword.
23 The quiver rattleth against him, the glittering spear and the shield.
24 He swalloweth the ground with fierceness and rage: neither believeth he that it is the sound of the trumpet.
25 He saith among the trumpets, Ha, ha; and he smelleth the battle afar off, the thunder of the captains, and the shouting.
26 Doth the hawk fly by thy wisdom, and stretch her wings toward the south?
27 Doth the eagle mount up at thy command, and make her nest on high?
28 She dwelleth and abideth on the rock, upon the crag of the rock, and the strong place.
29 From thence she seeketh the prey, and her eyes behold afar off.
30 Her young ones also suck up blood: and where the slain are, there is she.

THE RIVER JORDAN. Job 40, 23.

CHAPTER 40.

MOREOVER the LORD answered Job, and said,
2 Shall he that contendeth with the Almighty instruct him? he that reproveth God, let him answer it.
3 ¶ Then Job answered the LORD, and said,
4 Behold, I am vile; what shall I answer thee? I will lay mine hand upon my mouth.
5 Once have I spoken: but I will not answer: yea, twice; but I will proceed no further.
6 ¶ Then answered the LORD unto Job out of the whirlwind, and said,
7 Gird up thy loins now like a man: I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto me.

Israelites overcome, I. SAMUEL, 4. and the ark taken.

CHAPTER 4.

1 The Israelites are overcome by the Philistines. 11 The ark is taken, and Hophni and Phinehas are slain. 18 Eli falleth backward. 19 I-chabod is born.

AND the word of Samuel came to all Israel. Now Israel went out against the Philistines to battle, and pitched beside Eben-ezer: and the Philistines pitched in Aphek.

2 And the Philistines put themselves in array against Israel: and when they joined battle, Israel was smitten before the Philistines: and they slew of the army in the field about four thousand men.

that smote the Egyptians with all the plagues in the wilderness.

9 Be strong, and quit yourselves like men, O ye Philistines, that ye be not servants unto the Hebrews, as they have been to you: quit yourselves like men, and fight.

10 ¶ And the Philistines fought, and Israel was smitten, and they fled every man into his tent: and there was a very great slaughter; for there fell of Israel thirty thousand footmen.

11 And the ark of God was taken; and the two sons of Eli, Hophni and Phinehas, were slain.

1 The psalmist exhorteth the Jews, 4 the Gentiles, 7 and all the creatures to praise God.

A Psalm.

O SING unto the LORD a new song; for he hath done marvellous things: his right hand, and his holy arm, hath gotten him the victory.

2 The LORD hath made known his salvation: his righteousness hath he openly showed in the sight of the heathen.

3 He hath remembered his mercy and his faithfulness toward the house of Israel: all the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God.

4 Make a joyful noise unto the LORD, all the earth: make a loud noise, and rejoice, and sing praise.

5 Exalt ye the LORD our God, and worship at his footstool; for he is holy.

THE VARIORUM REFERENCE BIBLE.

THE TEXT IS THE KING JAMES VERSION with the passages marked where the rendering is considered faulty by scholars and where the reading of the original text is found to vary from the best and more recently discovered MSS., Versions, Translations, etc.

Note.—This marking is similar to the well-known reference marks, and does not interfere with the ordinary reading of the Scriptures.

The passages so marked have references in the footnotes on each page, where may be found various renderings with their authorities and various readings, with the sources from which they are taken.

The earlier editions of the Variorum Bible were published prior to the Revised Version, and, in consequence, the Old Testament Editors were invited to join the Westminster Revision Committee. Many members of that Committee have testified to the unique value of the Variorum, and to the great assistance it proved to them in the work of Revision.

All the best critical editions and translations, including the Revised Version, are collated up to date. The brief explanatory notes and interpretations have been increased, and—

The Poetical portions of the text are set out in parallelisms characteristic of Hebrew Poetry.

The notes, thus collated, place before the reader the evidence for or against alterations of the Revised Version, and the authorities that confirm the same.

The sources from which these Annotations are taken comprise, in the OLD TESTAMENT: 90 Commentators; 14 Versions, including the Revised Version, and R. V. Marginal Readings.

NEW TESTAMENT: 78 Commentators; 6 Ancient Versions; 23 Ancient Manuscripts; 11 Critical Editions of the Text, and Revised Version and Marginal readings.

Certainty and manner 1 CORINTHIANS, 15. of the resurrection.

38 But if any man be ignorant, β let him be ignorant.
39 Wherefore, brethren, [b]covet to prophesy, and forbid not to speak with tongues.
40 β Let all things be done decently and in order.

CHAPTER 15.

3 By Christ's resurrection, 12 he proveth the necessity of our resurrection, against all such as deny the resurrection of the body. 21 The fruit, 35 and manner thereof, 51 and of the changing of them, that shall be found alive at the last day.

MOREOVER, brethren, I declare unto you the gospel [f]which I preached unto you, which also ye have received, and [h]wherein ye stand;
2 [17]By which also ye [2]are saved, if ye ‖keep in memory † what I preached unto you[1], unless [m]ye [3]have believed [4]in vain.
3 For [n]I delivered unto you first of all that [o]which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins [q]according to the scriptures;
4 And that he was buried, and that he [5]rose again the third day [r]according to the scriptures:
5 [t]And that he was seen of Cephas, then [u]of the twelve:
6 After that, he was seen of above five hundred brethren at once; of whom the greater part remain unto this present, but some are fallen asleep.
7 After that, he was seen of James; then [a]of all the apostles.
8 [b]And last of all he was seen of me also, as of [6]‖one born out of due time.
9 For I am [c]the least of the apostles, that am not meet to be called an apostle, because [e]I persecuted the church of God.
10 But [g]by the grace of God I am what I am: and his grace which was bestowed upon me was not in vain; but [h]I laboured more abundantly than they all: [i]yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me.
11 Therefore whether it were I or they, so we preach, and so ye believed.
12 Now if Christ be preached that he rose from the dead, how say some among you that there is no resurrection of the dead?
13 But if there be no resurrection of the dead, [o]then [7]is Christ not risen:
14 And if Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain, and β your faith is also vain.

15 Yea, and we are found false witnesses of God; because [a]we have testified of God that he raised up Christ: whom he raised not up, [8]if so be that [8]the dead rise not.
16 For if the dead rise not, then is not Christ raised:
17 And if Christ be not raised, your faith is vain; [c]ye are yet in your sins.
18 Then they also which are fallen asleep in Christ are perished.
19 [d]If [9]in this life only we have [10]hope in Christ, we are of all men most miserable.
20 But now [e]is Christ risen from the dead, β and become β [g]the firstfruits of them that slept.
21 For [i]since by man came death, [k]by man came also the resurrection of the dead.
22 For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive.
23 But [p]every man in his own order: Christ the firstfruits; afterward they that are Christ's at his coming.
24 Then cometh the end, when he β shall have delivered up [s]the kingdom to God, even the Father; when he shall have put down all rule and all authority and power.
25 For he must reign, [x]till he hath put all enemies under his feet.
26 [y]The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death.
27 For he [z]hath put all things under his feet. But [11]when he saith all things are put under him, it is manifest that he is excepted, which did put all things under him.
28 [d]And when all things shall be [12]subdued unto him, then [f]shall the Son also himself be [12]subject unto him that put all things under him, that God may be all in all.
29 Else what shall they do which are baptized [13]for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? why are they then baptized for the dead?
30 And [k]why stand we in jeopardy every hour?
31 I protest by [14]‖[l]your rejoicing which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, [m]I die daily.
32 [15]If ‖after the manner of men [n]I have fought with beasts at Ephesus, what β advantageth it me, if the dead rise not? [p]let us eat and drink; for to morrow we die.

A UNIQUE TEACHER'S BIBLE.

The REV. F. N. PELOUBET in the Senior Sunday School Quarterly, 2d quarter, 1895, says, "Probably the most complete and perfect Bible for teachers and pastors in existence is the Variorum Teachers' Edition, published by Eyre & Spottiswoode. It not only has the helps usually found in Teachers' Bibles, revised and improved to the very latest dates, but it has at the foot of each page the various Renderings and Readings, with the authorities, so that at a glance the teacher can know whether he is speaking by authority, can correct his impressions, and can receive no little light on the meaning of all difficult passages. It brings at a glance what could elsewhere be gained by long research or special books. It is beautifully printed, beautifully bound. It is a work of art as well as of learning."

44 Then he saith, I will return into my house from whence I came out; and when he is come, he findeth it empty, swept, and garnished.
45 Then goeth he, and taketh with himself seven other spirits more wicked than himself, and they enter in and dwell there: and the last state of that man is worse than the first. Even so shall it be also unto this wicked generation.
46 While he yet talked to the people, behold, his mother and his brethren stood without, desiring to speak with him.
47 Then one said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to speak with thee.

TEACHERS' EDITION

OF THE

AMERICAN STANDARD BIBLE

Edited by the American Revision Committee, with references and topical headings prepared by them.

Containing the Bourgeois type Bible with references, Concise Bible Dictionary, a new Combined Concordance to the American Standard Version and 12 Indexed Maps.

THE CONCISE BIBLE DICTIONARY

which forms the Helps to these Teachers' Bibles is based on the Illustrated Bible Treasury, written by leading scholars in America and Great Britain, each one a recognized authority on the subject on which he writes. It supplies in the most condensed and convenient form all the latest information about the Bible, its history, its writers, its language, the various Versions, complete Chronology, Life of Christ, with Harmony of the Gospels, Life and Travels of St. Paul, etc. (See specimen on page 44.)

are reproduced from recent photographs and truly illustrate the articles where they appear.

THE COMBINED CONCORDANCE

is entirely new and has been made expressly for the American Standard Edition. It combines complete Concordance, Subject-Index, Scripture Proper Names, Obsolete and Ambiguous words in one A-B-C list. It also gives the correct pronunciation and interpretation of Scripture Proper Names and has over 10,000 references to the Authorized Version, where it differs from the Revised Version. (See specimen on page 42.)

THE 12 MAPS

have been carefully revised and are beautifully colored, notably the reproduction of the Relief Map of Palestine, lately published by the Palestine Exploration Society. There is also a complete index to every place noted on the maps.

"The best version of the Scriptures yet produced."—THE STANDARD.

"Beyond question the best translation of the whole Bible now available."—THE WATCHMAN.

THE CONCISE BIBLE DICTIONARY,

TEACHERS' EDITION OF THE AMERICAN STANDARD BIBLE.

The ox was used by the Jews for ploughing, treading out the corn in threshing, and for draught, and was only killed for sacrifices and for great feasts. Cows' milk was used, both fresh and slightly curdled, and also churned into butter, or in the form of curds, often called "butter" in Scripture. In the Jordan valley the Indian buffalo has been introduced, probably from Persia, in post-Exilian times.

CEDAR [çē'dar] of Lebanon grows also on the Taurus and Atlas Mountains. It was the king of trees (1 Kings 4. 33), the symbol of grandeur, might, loftiness, and ever-increasing expansion. Its wood was used in the successive temples at Jerusalem and in the palace of Nebuchadrezzar. The cedar of Lev. 14. 4 and Num. 19. 6 is probably an aromatic juniper.

CENCHREA [çĕn'chre-â]. [See CORINTH.]

CHALCEDONY [chăl-çed'ō-nў] (Gr. chalkedon), Rev. 21. 19. One of the many varieties of minutely crystalline silica, of a light, often milky, color, related to agate (q.v.).

CHALDÆA [chăl-dē'â], the plain of Babylon, or Lower Mesopotamia; once a very fertile land, now a barren, sandy desert. One of its great cities was "Ur of the Chaldees."

CHALDÆANS [chăl-dē'anş]. [See BABYLONIA.]

CHALDEE [chal'dee]. [See ARAMAIC.]

CHAMELEON [chà-mē'lē-ŏn]. [See LIZARD.]

CHAMOIS [chăm'ois, shăm'mў] (A. V. and R. V., Heb. "the leaper," Deut. 14. 5), the moufflon, or wild sheep.

CHARIOT [chăr'ĭ-ŏt] (Gen. 41. 43). The Israelites were familiar with chariots, as used by their enemies (Egyptians, Ex. 14. 25; Canaanites, Judg. 4. 3), long before they had them themselves. But David (2 Sam. 8. 4) and Solomon (1 Kings 10. 26) introduced both chariots and horses in ever-increasing numbers. They were two-wheeled vehicles, curved in front and open behind, in which two men could ride, one of whom drove (1 Kings 22. 34), while the other fought with bow or spear.

CHEDORLAOMER [chĕd'or-lā'o-mer]. [See ABRAHAM.]

CHEMOSH [chē'mŏsh], the god of the Moabites. [See MOABITE STONE.]

CHERUB [chĕr'ŭb] (plural CHERUBIM), a symbolical winged creature with a human face, associated in Scripture with the throne or chariot of Jehovah (Ps. 18. 10; 80. 1; 99. 1). In Gen. 3. 24 cherubim appear as the guardians of the approach to the tree of life. Two cherubim were placed on the mercy-seat or covering of the ark of the covenant in the Tabernacle and in the Temple, and figures representing cherubim were wrought into the hangings of the Holy of Holies. In Ezekiel's description (ch. 1 and 10; 41. 18, 19) they have a human body, with a head presenting the faces of a man, a lion, an ox, and an eagle, four hands, and four wings; the whole body of the cherubim and the wheels of the chariot being furnished with innumerable eyes. In Revelation the four faces of the cherubim are distributed among the four "living creatures" that surround the throne of God. [See GOSPELS.]

CHESTNUT-TREE [chĕst'nŭt-tree] (Gen. 30. 37; Ezek. 31. 8; R. V. plane-tree). It is a tall and majestic tree, growing near water in Palestine. From the globular form of the flowers and fruits it is often called button-tree.

CHITTIM [chĭt'tim] (also Kittim, Gen. 10. 4) is Greek Kition, the Phœnician port of Cyprus; the modern Larnaka. Hence Chittim is used in the Old Testament to denote the whole of Cyprus (e. g. Num. 24. 24).

CHRIST [chrīst] JESUS [jē'şus]. [See LIFE OF JESUS, pages 53–67; His Life and Works, see Concordance, under CHRIST; His Names, Titles, and Offices, see Concordance, under JESUS.]

CHRONICLES [ehrŏn'ĭ-cles], THE FIRST AND SECOND BOOKS OF THE, are in the third part of the Jewish Canon, where they form one book, named "Words (or "Acts") of Days," i. e. minutes of events, lists of names, and the like. In the LXX. they are divided into two books, entitled Paraleipoměna, "things omitted" or "passed over." Their Latin title from the time of Jerome has been Chronica, "Chronicles." The priestly tone of the writer, and his preoccupation with the fortunes of the house of David and the kingdom of Judah, are marked features of the work, which runs parallel to the older history (Books of Samuel and Kings), and is mainly drawn from the same sources.

some of them that stand here, who shall in no wise taste of death, till they see the Son of man coming in his kingdom.

17 And after six days Jē'sŭs taketh with him Pē'tĕr, and [1]Jāmes, and Jŏhn his brother, and bringeth them up into a high mountain apart: 2 and he was transfigured before them; and his face did shine as the sun, and his garments became white as the light. 3 And behold, there appeared unto them Mō'sĕs and Ē-lī'jàh talking with him. 4 And Pē'tĕr answered, and said unto Jē'sŭs, Lord, it is good for us to be here: if thou wilt, I will make here three [2]tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Mō'sĕs, and one for Ē-lī'jàh. 5 While he was yet speaking, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them: and behold, a voice out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; hear ye him. 6 And when the disciples heard it, they fell on their face, and were sore afraid. 7 And Jē'sŭs came and touched them and said, Arise, and be not afraid. 8 And lifting up their eyes, they saw no one, save Jē'sŭs only.

9 And as they were coming down from the mountain, Jē'sŭs commanded them, saying, Tell the vision to no man, until the Son of man be risen from the dead. 10 And his disciples asked him, saying, Why then say the scribes that Ē-lī'jàh must first come? 11 And he answered and said, Ē-lī'jàh indeed cometh, and shall restore all things: 12 but I say unto you, that Ē-lī'jàh is come already, and they knew him not, but did unto him whatsoever they would. Even so shall the Son of man also suffer of them. 13 Then understood the disciples that he spake unto them of Jŏhn the Bāp'tĭst.

14 And when they were come to the multitude, there came to him a man, kneeling to him, and saying, 15 Lord, have mercy on my son: for he is epileptic, and suffereth grievously; for ofttimes he falleth into the fire, and ofttimes into the water. 16 And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not cure him. 17 And Jē'sŭs answered and said, O faithless
